Grove-Shafter Freeway Tops Federation's Priority

The Grove - Shafter Freeway from MacArthur Boulevard to the west portal of the proposed third Broadway Tunnel has the top priority of the Diablo Highway Federation for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

This was explained to the State Highway Commission at its annual budget hearing in Sacramento Wednesday by Harold Mutnick, Lafayette attorney and chairman of the highway federation.

MUTNICK listed a total of five projects which the federation's board has recommended for state consideration in this year's budget.

In order of priority, the other projects are the freeway from the east portal of the new tunnel to the Orinda Crossroads, extension of the Monument Freeway toward Willow Pass Road in Concord, extension of the Monument Freeway toward the Martinez - Benicia Bridge and the Danville Freeway south of Walnut Creek to the Alameda County line.

Mutnick pointed out that right-of-way monies for the first leg of the Monument Freeway were included in last year's state budget. The second leg of the Monument Freeway would begin at its intersection with the Arnold Industrial Highway.

HE SAID allocations for the five projects should be made as soon as practicable and as soon as funds are available.

The federation chairman acknowledged that "Last year's allocation for the new second Broadway Tunnel is recognition by your commission of the prime highway need of our area, but a new tunnel without freeway "linkage" to the abuilding MacArthur Freeway in Oakland and to our existing freeway system . . . makes the new tunnel a meaningless contribution toward eliminating the serious and dangerous congestion on the main traffic artery of our area."

Bids for the new tunnel are expected to be called within the next two weeks, and will probably be opened approximately November 1. The tunnel bore will take about 30 months to construct.

MUTNICK stressed that while all of the recommended routes are indispensable, the Grove-Shafter and Orinda freeways are the most important for the area.

He told the commission that "Since a large portion of the residents of our area commute every workday to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay area, it is respectfully suggested that traffic relief should begin with and radiate out from this employment hub and center.

"Therefore, regardless of whether the prime allocation of state highway funds for our area would fall within the budget of our sister county of Alameda, the federation board of directors unequivocally urge that the 'bottlenecks' and 'missing links' in our present freeway system" be filled in as rapidly as possible.

The Danville Freeway would begin at Castle Hill Road, according to the federation's recommendations.

Orindans Grab Two Gold Medals!

Orinda Miss Breaks Own Mark in Butterfly Swim

By LARRY GLAZIER

Orinda was the talk of the world this week, thanks to 17-year-old Carolyn Schuler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Schuler of 93 Van Ripper Lane.

Carolyn, a June graduate of Miramonte High School, brought honor to herself, her parents and to the entire community Tuesday by winning a gold medal in the women's 100-meter butterfly swimming final in Rome Tuesday.

She did it by churning through the Olympic waters in a record-smashing 1:09.5. The previous record of 1:09.8 was Carolyn's own, set the previous day in a qualifying heat.

THE GOLD medal was the first in Orinda's history, and it is believed to be the first such Olympic honor ever to come to Contra Costa County.

Miss Schuler's feat was even more heart warming due to the fact that among the onlookers at Rome were her mother and father and brother. The Schulers, with the exception of Carolyn, will return to Orinda September 11.

Last spring she dropped out of all competition and began turning her efforts to winning a berth on the Olympic team. She accomplished this in Detroit last month when she finished second in the nation to Carolyn Woodw, 14-year-old Oregonian.

MISS WOOD, behind in Tuesday's battle, swallowed a lot of water and had to drop from the race about 40 yards from the finish.

Miss Schuler, Lowther reported, was among the Americans who received an audience with Pope John XXIII at the Vatican. He said Carolyn received a blessing from the pontiff for a medal she wore around her neck.

In addition, the Orinda girl was selected as one of the U.S. envoys to the Russian Olympic team and she received a Sputnik pin from one of the Soviet girls.

The local gold medalist will probably tour Europe after the Games end September 11, and her arrival date in Orinda is unknown. She will, however, be honored on her arrival and at a testimonial October 18.

THE SCHULERS will arrive at San Francisco International Airport that day, and are expected to be met by a car caravan from Sleepy Hollow.

Although the entire community of Orinda echoed the excitement over Carolyn's big win, the proudest people of all were her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lowther, 153 Lombardy Lane.

Lowther said that the Schulers and his family both moved to Orinda 12 years ago, and were among the first families to settle in Sleepy Hollow. Carolyn attended the Orinda schools from kindergarten through high school graduation.

FOUR YEARS ago the Schulers built a swimming pool in their backyard. The following year, Carolyn took an interest in the sport and Tuesday's win was the culmination of all her efforts since that time.

She is a popular and important member of the Berkeley Y's women's swimming team, and has been coached by Charlie Sava of San Francisco's Crystal Springs Pool.

BULLETIN

George Harrison yesterday became the second Orindan to win an Olympic gold medal in the 17th Olympic Games at Rome this week.

Harrison, 21-year-old son of the Robert Harrisons of 7 Camino Lenada, was a member of the American men's freestyle relay team which set a world's record in winning the coveted five points for the United States.

No Double Sessions Here!

For the first time in 13 years, there will be no double sessions in the Orinda Union School District when school starts Tuesday, Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff reported today.

A record enrollment of 3320 will be on hand for the opening of doors at the district's seven schools, Sheaff said. The enrollment is an increase of about 60 over last year's figure.

THE OPENING on schedule of the district's newest school, Inland Valley Intermediate, is one of the main reasons the double sessions have been totally eliminated, according to the superintendent.

The new school, adjacent to the Inland Valley Elementary School, is Orinda's second intermediate facility. It was started last winter, shortly after the completion of the elementary school.

Sheaff said class tims for the various schools in the district will be as follows:

Sleepy Hollow, 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; Del Rey, 8:20 a.m. to 2:40 p.m.; Glorietta, 8:20 a.m. to 2:40 p.m.; Orinda, 9 a.m. to 3:25 p.m.; Inland Valley Intermediate, 8:30 a.m. to 3:25 p.m.; Inland Valley Elementary, 8:25 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.; Pine Grove seventh and eighth grades, 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.; and Pine Grove sixth grades, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

THERE WILL be a total of four sixth grade classes at Pine Grove this year, according to the superintendent.

James Jentges, assistant superintendent for business, said food service will begin at Sleepy Hollow, Glorietta and Pine Grove schools immediately. Food service at Orinda School will begin at a later date, and parents will be notified.

Sheaff reported the district's request for an administration building has been removed from the state priority list. He explained no funds are being allocated for anything other than classrooms until November.

Here Are Suggestions For Your Labor Day Fling

By CONNIE PIKE

Feel like having one last fling before school opens? A trip to the mountains, sleeping in a cozy tent, with your children snugly tucked in all around you?

Or how about spending Labor Day weekend at a dude ranch in the valley, with the children safely away in a separate wing?

Whatever you decide is best for your family, the first step toward a successful trip is to make a few lists. Call a family council and pass out plenty of paper and pencils. When the children are absorbed in turning out comic pictures of mother and daddy, you can get down to planning.

USING THE creative thinking method, make a list of places to go, including expenses and necessary equipment. Now go through and cross out those that are too expensive. This cuts down your list rapidly.

Discard those that refuse children and dogs. Of course you'll take the dog.

Also you have used up one day of the three-day weekend, but if you get to work early in the morning you'll still have two days away.

ON THE second planning day, take up your lists again and scratch out places that require reservations and areas that are too warm or too cold for comfort. This is a good time to reject all camping ideas, too.

Now what have you left? Your grandmother's cabin in the Cumberland Mountains? (This is part of thinking creatively.) A motel downtown?

At this point it's too late to buy supplies for any kind of trip—it's Sunday and the stores are closed.

Get out the telephone directory and call your friends who have backyard pools, in alphabetical order. They'll be surprised to hear from you after such a long time? I'll bet they're expecting your call.

THAT FINISHED, call all your friends w/o pools, in alphabetical order. Everybody gone?

Tell you what—why don't you just go out for hamburgers and catch the early show tonight and maybe something will turn up tomorrow. The kids will love your impetuousness.

Then on Monday, if nobody calls, you can start putting the children's school clothes in order. When your friends get home, tell them you decided to have a relaxing weekend at home. Sympathize with them when they tell you about the vapor-lock.

And be sure to mention their sunburns.

Dinner Tickets Will Be Sold For Olympians

Tickets for Olympians Welcome Dinner, to be held at the Red Mill October 18, are expected to be placed on sale throughout Lafayette and Orinda sometime next week, it was announced today.

The dinner will honor the central county's three swimmers on the U.S. Olympic team, now in Rome. They include Carolyn Schuler, 100-meter butterfly gold medal winner, and George Harrison of Orinda, and Donna deVarona of Lafayette.

Sponsors of the testimonial banquet are the Lafayette and Orinda chambers of commerce and The Sun.

Lions Will Start Voter Campaign

Cooperating with more than 11,000 Lions Clubs in as many communities throughout the United States, the Lions Club of Orinda plans a "Register to Vote" campaign to get out the vote in Orinda.

In announcing the drive, President Jack Rechtiene of the local Lions Club said, "Regardless of party, every eligible voter should vote in this, our greatest election."

To assist the local firemen who have been registering voters, Chief Al Winsor, a Lion member, and other members of the Lions Club will distribute announcements of the Sept. 15 closing date to register.

A Lions register booth will be set up in the Orinda business district Thursday and Saturday for the convenience of the public.

Planners Vote To Consider 2 PG Variations

The County Planning Commission voted Tuesday night to allow the Associated Investment Company of Oakland to apply for sideyard and setback variances on the Pine Grove property.

The action came following a public hearing in Martinez, at which time county officials explained that because of the nature of the A-O zoning regulation, the commission first must decide whether or not a property owner will be permitted to request variations.

There are only two other A-O properties in the county, one at the Pleasant Hill Interchange in Lafayette and the other in Clayton Valley.

Following the hearing and the explanation, the Orinda Association announced it will recommend the adoption of the property owners' two requests on the Pine Grove site.

Hard to Own Bike? No! Here Is a Good Way . .

It's not hard to own a new Columbia bike, boy's or girl's.

Simply sell 10 subscriptions to The Sun, rated as one of the leading weekly newspapers in California.

The bike will be yours in a choice of the 20, 24 or 26-inch sizes.

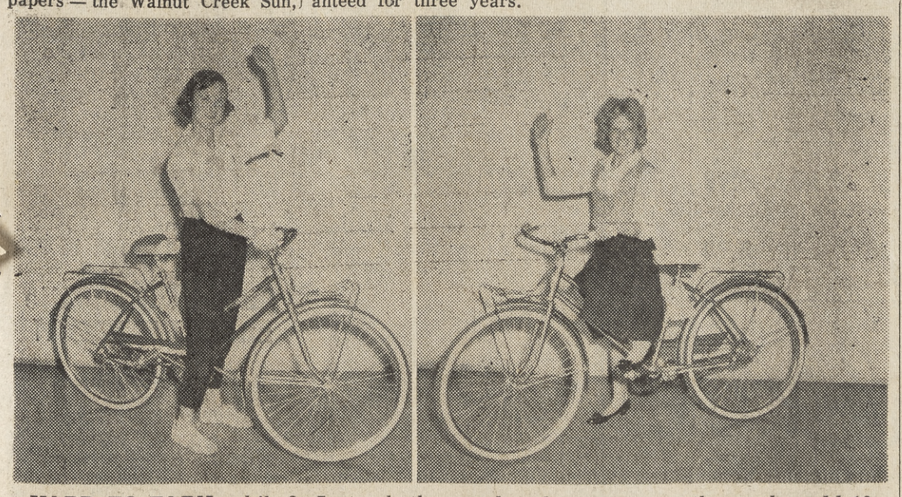
"THIS IS not a contest," announced Herman Silverman, Sun publisher.

"Any boy or girl can win a nationally-famous Columbia bicycle in the Sun's new 'Earn-A-Bike" plan.

"It's only necessary to sell 10 new subscriptions in any combination of the four Sun newspapers — the Walnut Creek Sun, and also at the Goodyear Service Store, 1231 South Main Street, Walnut Creek.

"ACTUALLY everybody wins, whether they sell all 10 subscriptions or not.

"If you sell only three subscriptions, you will receive an imported Swiss wrist watch, guaranteed for three years.



HARD TO EARN a bike? Just ask these gals, who are among those who sold 10 subscriptions to The Sun this week. Those Columbia bikes shown are the ones they took home. At left, Melanie Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pike, 925 Anita Court, Lafayette; at right Debora Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Morrison of 1320 Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette.

Pets & Pals Not Recommended as Humane Shelter

The Contra Costa County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has notified officials of the county that it cannot recommend Pets and Pals animal shelter, 3338 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, as a humane shelter.

As reported in The Sun August 12, the SPCA committee was assigned to study Pets and Pals by County Agricultural Commissioner Arthur Seeley, head of the county's animal control program.

Criticisms of the shelter by the SPCA included filthy and overcrowded conditions, lack of food and water for the animals and health and fire hazards.

The three-page report was signed by Irene M. Morrow, Mary E. Lumsden, Lucile Place, Wayne Westover Sr. and Ray Verostek, directors of the society.

The Sun was unable to contact Mrs. Glad Sargent, president and founder of the animal home, before press time, and her attorney, Dale Wright of Walnut Creek, said he did not wish to comment on the SPCA action until he had talked with Mrs. Sargent.

A complaint to The Sun yesterday cited the case of a German Shepherd which was brought to Pets and Pals late Friday afternoon for placement.

The pet of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. McEligot of Orinda, they gave it up because they felt they did not devote enough attention to it, and made a $5 donation to the animal shelter.

MONDAY Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Stevens of 1306 Summit Road, Lafayette, heard of the dog through mutual friends and called Pets and Pals to obtain it.

Stevens, a teacher at Acalanes High School, was told by a worker at the shelter that the dog had already been sold for $35.

When he queried the worker about the amount, she turned him over to the shelter manager, who said the dog was still there and requested $25 for it.

WHEN Stevens exclaimed about the cost, the manager said the dog had been at Pets and Pals for two weeks. Stevens replied he knew it had been brought in late Friday by the McEligot family, and offered $7.50.

He then went to the shelter to see the dog, and fater further discussion the manager dropped the price to $15, which Stevens refused to pay.

Suddenly, Last Summer!

Labor Day weekend puts a period to a pleasant summer . . . & suddenly, w/the school bus comin' around the mountain, we wonder WHERE, o WHERE did it go?

With the younger set sailing off in all directions to college, one of the recent parties served as a chance for choice summer talk as well as comparing new collections of college clothes . . .

SOME THIRTY young women attended last Saturday's BRUNCH given by Luzanne Lang in honor of her contemporary, Winter Ball deb Sylvia Bolman . . . The daughter of the Robert Bolmans will study at Oregon State this fall, buckling down to books before the holiday flurry for cotillion members starts early in the Christmas season.

FAIR YOUNG GUESTS at the Joe Lang's Tarry Lane home for luncheon were mainly young women who'll start their freshman year at college. . . Miramonte Seniors on hand were Marty Painter, Susan Cox & Lynn Holmgren. Sue Tharp with much talk of her summer stay at Malibu . . . Ruth Thompson recounting experiences as a Counselor at Cazadero camp.

Local DEBS Holly Borden, Debbie Smith, Vicki Sexon among those pleased w/the pastel-iced petit-fours . . . Jule Noller, Pat Finn, Kathy Brobeck, Joan Robinson & Sharon Gillespie more of the prettily cotton-clad coeds coming to the afternoon party.

THE SPRAY of iced champagne & the chlorinated waters of a brand new pool promised a cool afternoon & evening Christening party for guests of Chris & Gloria Saribalis last wknd . . . Raison d'etre, their newly-completed State Pool, as it is called, for its shape resemblant to the State of California.

Patio & pool girts were as much fun to give as receive . . . in the case of one guest who brought a plastic Seahorse, all blown up & ready for a ride, much to the delight of the Saribalises' youngster John. Sisters Valerie & Pamela were also on hand to share in the christening of this latest family "addition" to the contemporary house in the Charles Hill area.

NOTES FROM the Sea Horse: The Norman Portellos there, JEAN given the honors of popping the cork from the FIRST bottle of Blessed-Evening Champagne. Toasts all around to the pretty plunge & its host & hostess.

The Dick Dildines w/plans to overnite this week at the State Fair for a good look at the prize bovines & bantams . . . Marian & Bud Leighton's whimsical gift, a garden statuary of a ceramic turtle . . . Nearby neighbors, Tom & Virginia Montague, SHE just home from a Tahoe stay.

The Leightons, by the way, played at Pebble Beach on return home L.A. . . . & the Alan McDowells also among those enjoying the buffet supper early evening, never even noticed the fog when they were in Carmel!

FIRST of the guests in for a swim was "Locky," Lady Doctor, SHE being Dr. Lockeschoff, of Vienna, a very dear friend of Gloria Saribalis . . . Chris introducing his medic brother Stephen & his wife of S.F. who were just back from a stay in the Capitol.

By evening when the guests departed, the pool as well as the patio gifts had got a real christening. The hurricane candles had been lighted, the wrought iron ashtrays used, ditto the colorful tumblers & may they all bring the new pool owners much pleasure in years to come.

Don't Fence Me In!

ONE ORINDA COUPLE we knew installed a pool recently, then learned about the new law requiring fencing. Rather than spoil the view of the pool from their house, they decided to fence their entire home & garden. Ended up costing almost as much as the POOL!

If I were a Hollywood Columnist I might write—Both Twinx Hauer & Virginia Kromer have established "bleachheads" . . . but instead I'll say I hardly recognized them that way.

Psychologists say it sometimes changes one's WHOLE personality to switch from brunette to blonde & this reminds me of the fashion mag at—a 3-pge spread showing a gal reaching for Clairol . . . "I have but one life to live . . . & I want to live it as a Blonde" . . . Quick, hand me the peroxide, Darling!

DIDN'T I forget to fill in about the Dildines? . . . Oh, yes, Pat's birthday present, a new convertible, caused quite a commotion the other night—well, about 2:30 in the morn. The horn, subject to sounding off when damp, was brought to the attn. of the garage but they forgot to fix it.

So while Maestro Dick was out folding up his band instruments, & Pat was getting her beauty sleep, the fog crept in on little cat feet & Meeeeeow it hit that horn! Pat flew out of bed, attempted to shut it up, called the Honeyhill Fire Dept. & begged them to hurry, please not to sound their siren, there was enough ear-splitting noise going on at that crazy hour as it was! The firemen sped to the rescue, but just as they approached the Dildine driveway, the siren went off accidentally. I tell you, it sounded like a wild party or New Year's Eve & by now Pat was numb w/cold & a nervous wreck.

Fifteen minutes later, the Music Maestro arrived home, his car stealing softly up through his quiet neighborhood, past the peaceful convertible in the circular driveway to his silent house! And PAT calming down w/a cup of hot ovaltine!

In the mail this week are Tanager invites to the annual cocktail conclave to be held at the Dildine's Sept. 24 . . . Guests are requested to please check their car horns beforehand!

David Nelson, 9-year-old son of the Vern Nelsons of Mariposa Lane, was chosen to be a cover-boy for Covered Wagon Bread on acct. his full set of strong white teeth. When Little David learned what he'd earn just for posing for a TV commercial eating a slice of bread, he had but one question . . . "Plain?" asked our boy who probably takes HIS w/peanut butter!

DOMICILE DATA . . . The Einer Oases (he's a long-time friend of Al Medina & George Anderson) have found their ivy-covered cottage (?) on Ivy Drive . . . Practically Orinda Natives, Jerry & Jean Cullen will be missed a LOT when they move to the beautiful Carmel Valley.

The Attorney Harney Wilsons, (we like her name, Galey!) will be watching the progress of their new home on Hacienda Circle to be finished in about 2 mos. & simply meaning an easy move down El Toyonal, across & over & up a short way to Orinda Estates. The Bob Roths are building 'way out Miner Rd.

Gone but not forgotten are the Karl Saxes who w/with their children moved to New York. Marjorie will be missed behind the books behind the checkout desk at Orinda's Library.

LIBRARY lady Sib O'Flaherty brushed up on her Shakespeare while in Ashland, Ore., recently for the famous Festival, flying there w/her husband, newspaperman Hay O'Flaherty. He's retired Mng. Ed. of the Chicago Trib!

There'll Be Some Changes Made!

New memberships in the Stork Club (probation period 9 mos.) are the Gerry Pixleys, Bob & Leslie Corsi, the Vic Grabers & Phyllis & Dick McAdam. If we wait any longer, it really won't be NEWS!

Priscilla & J. Raly Bowen will have their own "candidate" (No. 2) to content & contend w/comes November. The Norm Cunninghams call him "Our Son John."

JUNIOR TRAVELLERS . . . The Jack Lackeys' Tidd, Missy & David summered in Kansas w/their grandparents, Missy attdg. a girls' camp session in Minnesota . . . Connie Miller's 12 yr. old Kathy proved her nautical proficiency by being selected for the Boondodgers Sailing Club at Lake Merritt.

BACK TO Bassinette banter: We heard of one expectant mother, somewhat concerned over her sudden plumpness, who was placated by her understanding dghtr. who sympathized, "Don't worry, Mom . . . maybe it's a horse!"

SUDDENLY, last summer: The Jay Angelos still remember their Mexico trip by the souvenirs they brought home . . . The Bob Fields' basked at Tahoe & perennial vacationer Miller Winfree, home just two days from Clear Lake & Donner Summit, is sifting the sand from the books she reads on the beach at Seabright. There w/her 3 sons!

Noreen Moses, w/sudden guests coming for tea, moseyed to the stores to find some tea sandwiches, but alas, unlike Vancouver, from whence she came last year, there were none ready & available. Unlike most women we know, Noreen loves to make tiny tea sandwiches & (no novice she w/the watercress & crabmeat) has decided to make them to order for just such ones who find it too tedious & time-consuming. Her number, CL 4-0186.

MIRAMONTE SENIORS, lend your ears! A BREAKFAST & Bowling get-together gab-session will celebrate the first day of school w/Seniors planning to meet at the Rheem Bowl at 5 AYEM (Oh, to be young again!). Breakfast of bacon & eggs, etc. will be available for 95 & before school-bell time, a caravan of cars will cruise forth to the halls of learning. To get in on the fun, a call to Carol Pederson, Diane Hotchkiss, Pam Dermit or Susan Cox.

Frank & Georgie Walker have issued invitations, are throwing a small Soiree! & urge their guests to be "Toujours Gay" at a 5-8 affair calendared for Sat., Sept. 10!

ORINDA PARK POOL holds their inter-pool championship meet tomorrow at Orinda Park . . . Entries are not required to be swim-team members! 10 a.m. starting time!

Jane Rose, who roots for the Philly Bums because she hails from THERE, will take an Indian Summer trip back home in September to her City of Brotherly Love.

Dr. & Mrs. Charles Schuler & their son Richard jetted the Polar route to Rome to be on hand for their dghtr. Carolyn's participating in the Olympics . . . How proud they must be she won the 100-meter Butterfly & copped honors for our country!

POST-Games, they plan to play tourist in Florence, Venice, Milan & Paris before returning home.

WHEN THE KIDS go back to school next week, Jr. League neophytes will start a rigorous course themselves . . . Janet Cotter, Mary Smith are two young Orinda women who'll take to pencil & notebook for fourteen informative sessions, Orinda's William Penn Mott to be among the featured speakers!

ALL THE KING'S MEN . . . & their ladies too, will have "A Knight to Remember" on Sat. Sept. 17, when the lovely ladies of Lombardy Branch hold their annual feast & ball at the castle, Orinda Country Club.

Generally speaking, it is not harmful to water plants when the sun is shining on them, but theoretically, it is better to water in the early morning or evening so that water has a chance to penetrate the soil before much of it is lost by evaporation.

County Board Sets Date for Transit Study

September 29 at 10 a.m. has been set as the date for a study session of the $926 million regional rapid transit system plan proposed by the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors.

Contra Costa County board of supervisors, meeting in Martinez Tuesday, when naming the date stated that Contra Costa's three members of the rapid transit board will be asked to attend the session. It will be held in the supervisors' chambers and will be open to the public.

Chairman Mel F. Nielsen said all three rapid transit directors from Contra Costa should be at the session to enable them to vote on the matter "unanimously." The county's rapid transit directors are Harry L. Morrison Jr., H. L. Cummings and Marvin Joseph.

NIELSEN criticized the rapid transit engineers favoring the route along the old Sacramento Northern Railroad instead of near the Diablo Freeway.

The county board of supervisors has been asked by the rapid transit directors to submit recommendations concerning the Contra Costa phase of the five county network not later than December 1.

Adrien J. Falk, president, San Francisco Bay Rapid Transit District has asked the board to keep three points in mind in their consideration of possible recommendations.

'Free' Lotteries Ruled Illegal

A ruling by Attorney General Stanley Mosk that "free" bingo games and awards of merchandise or refunds on purchases of merchandise are illegal, will be enforced in Contra Costa County.

District Attorney John A. Nejedly has announced he will prosecute any bingo games, free grocery give-aways or lucky number gimmicks used by stores and restaurants as lotteries.

A DECISION received earlier this month from Mosk stated that a transaction where a customer must pay something to win a prize on the basis of chance is a lottery.

Included in the decision were church bingo games and such devices as free groceries to every 1,000th customer.

However, Nejedly said that the decision of Mosk that in the so-called "free" bingo games, if no purchase is required to win, the game cannot be called a lottery.

In pointing out that the consideration for the chance need not be separable from the consideration paid for some other purpose, Mosk said, "If the group of persons eligible to win the prize is required to purchase any merchandise as a condition of eligibility, the scheme is a lottery.

The church meets at Miramonte High School, with worship and services and Sunday school starting at 9:30 a.m.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship meets every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Teenagers interested in this fellowship may call Ruth Jacobson, Dr 6-4194, for information.

Music director Helen Holzinger will be leading a small choir in its first performance Sunday. A full church choir is being organized and anyone interested in singing with this group is urged to contact Mrs. Holzinger, CL 4-0456.

The official board will meet Wednesday at the parsonage, 143 Fiesta Circle, Orinda, at 8 p.m.

Episcopal

Services on the 12th Sunday after Trinity at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will be Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m. and Choral Eucharist at 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. with the Reverend C. Corwin Calavan, rector, as celebrant and preacher.

He will be assisted by the Reverend Melvin Brown, assistant pastor, and Donald Loach, choirmaster and organist, will play for the two later services.

The senior choir will sing at the 10 o'clock service and will present as an offertory anthem the hymn of the month for September, number 573, which is a setting of the hymn, "Go, Labor On" to a tune, "Angel's Song," by Orlando Gibbons.

On Tuesday the Altar Guild will meet at 9:30 a.m. for a corporate celebration of Holy Communion. The regular mid-week service will be held on Wednesday at 10 a.m.

At 8 p.m. Wednesday there will be the first of two meetings held for the purpose of acquainting parents with the church school program. Parents are asked to attend either this meeting or one to be held on the following Wednesday before registering their children for church school.

At the same hour there will be a special meeting of the extended church school under the direction of the church school staff and nursery facilities will be provided at the morning worship hour.

ON WEDNESDAY night the church family will meet at 7:45 p.m. for prayer and Bible study at which time Rev. Lambert will conclude his present series of messages on contemporary comparative religions.

The church recently completed its first Daily Vacation Bible School with a special graduation exercise held on Sunday morning at which time over 100 parents and children saw the children who took part in the school receive special certificates of completion and after the services attended a special reception and viewed the crafts and workbooks which the children had used during the week.

The well attended Vacation Bible school was the first undertaken by the church and the church school staff was assisted by the ladies of the church family and friends who gave of their time.

TASTERS SUPREME are these three ladies preparing for the tasting of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church in Orinda. The event will be held September 28. In the background is part of the new church building, now under construction at the intersection of Orchard Road and Moraga Way. Polynesian Natives Enioy Potato Salad Luau at Park

By ANN LINCOLN

Amidst towering palm leaves, flower-covered fish nets, giant clam shells and millions of paper leis, beachcomber and muu muu-clad teenagers from the Orinda area had dinner, danced and just enjoyed themselves Thursday before last at the Park Pool luau.

The dinner consisted mainly of barbecued chicken and potato salad with a few decorations (bananas, grapes and coconuts) tossed in.

But as always, there were some problems—such as trying to dance with trampled flowers sticking to one's feet, finding someone with shoes on to change the records, and keeping the dry ice in hot water so the misty effect wouldn't disappear. Teri Clarke seemed to have some trouble, too, when the boys started arguing about which order they were in to dance with her.

Some of the incoming freshmen having a good time were Hap Parker, Chris Cambell, Doug Hamilton, Gary McCosker, Sue Brown, Jay Grilli, Tony Aires and Bob Lyman. Other natives present were Tom Kirby, Charlie Ward, Greg Peterson, Marty Spittler, Barby Brush, Wendy Wilcox and Vice Clarke.

Our handsome new foreign exchange student from Iran, Abbass Heghighat, was also there to join in the festivities. He will be staying with Carl Ogden and his family through the year.

Barb Smith and Irene Waschmirth seem to be quite envied around here, both with new convertibles.

The most recent magnet for Matadors is the new Rheem Bowl. It's opening last Saturday drew quite a crowd, including Bill Caldwell, Jonathan Jensen, Steve Miller, Grigg DeWitt, and Mike McQuaid, Kitty Mika, Nancy Bregar and Mary Baker. Being the only bowling center in the immediate area, Rheem Bowl is sure to get a lot of business.

John Reilly has returned from his trip to Europe and had quite a wonderful time. He visited France, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Ireland and England.

The Gilmores, viewing the sights in Canada, certainly are not taking a vacation from their typical episodes. They're traveling in their "Camper" (house trailer pick-up) and like to keep the back door open because of the heat. It seems that Mike fell against the refrigerator on a sharp turn, opening it. Well, as luck would have it, Carol caught the frozen pot roast with her foot before it slid out the door.

The Sherwood Show entertained Dick Stark, Enid Hennessy, Johnny Ortland and Diane Traverso in Jack London Square a week or so ago. Afterwards Johnny decided to have a party. Chris Almond, Judy Poole, Tom White, Kathy Tesman, Denny Spittler, "Zeke" Gillivan and Dave Rhoda were only a few of those who had themselves quite a time.

Bob and Rick Merriam spent part of their vacation in Miami, Florida, but now Bob is working to pay off his car and Rick is enjoying himself in Los Angeles. Their parents are soaking up the sun in Jamaica. What a life!

Bill McGuire, Brad Olson, Pete Yeddidia and Bill Van Voorhis spent one whole afternoon using a telescope for something besides looking at the stars—It can be surprising how interesting it is watching people move into a new house.

That joker no one can forget, Larry Switzer, was back in town for a few days. He was up to his old tricks again making Pam Pearson, Nancy Bregar and a friend of his walk "nearly a mile" from Union Square to their destination. The girls insisted on a taxi back to the car—they won.

Miramonte has some new celebrities. Sandi Grilli and Tony Hudson received a second in a dance contest at Walnut Creek's record hop last Saturday night, while Nancy Baker and Cory Louther pulled in a third. Karen Rigor and Tom Gaffaney were finalists. These three couples have won the honor of being on Dick Stewart's Dance Party on Sept. 6—so watch for them.

Roger McCosker has been putting in sewer pipes this summer. It seems that there was quite a mess when one broke that shouldn't have.

Our old grads are slowly drifting off to college. Suzie Lahti left the second and Michele Angelo and Dana Cook are leaving the 16th for Scripps. The Santa Baraba crowd including Jule Noller and, Kathie Calhoun are leaving the eighth.

Oh, that Robert Boyle has been at it again! He took his father's brand new Cadillac through the quarter and did a surprising 60.

Joyce Odenthal is on Capwell's High School Board and has been in all their back-to-school fashion shows. In November she will be in Capwell's big show at the Claremont Hotel. This summer she worked as a part-time sales girl at Capwells.

Jack Gilbert and Jim Gilwee were vacationing in Montana with Jack's family and had a fabulous time.

"Cowboy Brad" (Harlan, that is) has been working as a wrangler on a ranch up in Idaho, while his buddy, Dwight Thompson, has been living it us in Los Angeles playing "beachcomber."

Plenty of food, no sleep, and little tidbits from Lady Chatterly's Lover, entertained Sharen Nielson, Sue Nattress, Kitty Mika, Jane White, Nancy Bregar and Joan Scholberg at a slumber(?) party a while ago.

It was okay until all of them wanted to get in on the cooking. And what's that old proverb say—"Too many cooks spoil the——" Well, that's just about what it turned out to be! As it always is, Sharen was left with the mess . . .

Orinda Park Team Wins 3-Way Meet

A three-way swim meet was held between Moraga Valley, Sleepy Hollow and Orinda Park swim teams Saturday at the Sleepy Hollow Pool.

Orinda Park was victorious with a score of 243, Sleepy Hollow came in second with a score of 196 and Moraga Valley was third with a score of 139.

This was an exceedingly good showing for Moraga Valley, as this is their first year as a real team. It would be interesting to note that Sleepy Hollow had the lead during the first event, free-style, but Orinda Park obtained it during breaststroke and held it. Only age groups eight through 14 were entered for points.

Outstanding swimmers on the Orinda Park team were Mary Lee Eldred, Carolyn Johnson, Debbie Saunders, Laurel Kersten, Glen Madsen, Kim Olsen, Johnny Kirby, Kim Kersten, Kent Williams and Craig Spittler.

The Orinda Park Pool Championships will be held at the Orinda Park Pool tomorrow at 3 p.m.

Broadway Tunnel Commuter Traffic Has Increased 34% in Five Years

Commuter traffic headed west through the Broadway Tunnel each weekday morning has increased some 34 per cent in the past five years.

A release from the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District indicates that on a "test" morning last year from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m., a total of 2192 more cars moved through the tunnel than on a comparable morning in 1954.

Although this increase is considerable, the percentage increase is less than its equivalent for Marin County, the Peninsula, the North Bay or Southern Alameda County.

HIGHEST is Marin County, with 3944 more cars and an increase of 97 per cent; then come the Peninsula with 5714 more cars and 54 per cent; southern Alameda County, 5138 more cars, 47 per cent; north East Bay, 1488 more cars, 39 per cent.

The overall picture of the Bay Area situation was explained as follows:

"In the East Bay, a 39 per cent increase was found: 25 per cent more "reverse commuters" moving across the Bay Bridge toward Oakland, 47 per cent more from southern Alameda County, 34 per cent more through the Broadway Tunnel, and 39 per cent more from the Richmond area.

"Significance of the study to the over-all patterns of the area was underscored by General Manager John M. Peirce.

"THE TREMENDOUS growth in commute-hour auto traffic indicates the constant increase in the number of suburban cummutters," he said.

Peirce noted the 50 per cent auto traffic increase, and compared it to the 10 per cent population increase.

"In view of the 5-to-1 ratio of increased auto travel to population growth during the past five years and in view of the projections that the Bay Area will double in population in the next 25 years, it is obvious that a more efficient method of moving people must be developed. The private automobile is not enough."

Peirce said that the traffic figures pointed up that "an ever-increasing number of jobs in the central areas are being filled by suburban residents.

"The inter-dependence between the central cities and the suburbs is becoming more and more important."

THE TRAFFIC comparisons also indicated a rise in reverse flow movement. Traffic passing south from San Francisco during the period increased 58 per cent; across the Golden Gate into Marin County, 88 per cent; and moving away from the East Bay core, 32 per cent.

"The reverse-flow increase indicates the mobility factor of a major metropolitan area which is functioning in an efficient manner.

"When the flow, regardless of direction, becomes choked, economic development is impeded," Peirce said.

"Automobile traffic moving toward the central core cities during the commuter rush hours has jumped nearly 50 per cent in just five years.

CONSULTING engineers to BARTD, comparing traffic along the major gateways during a typical weekday morning in 1959 to that of a similar morning in 1954, found 23,000 more vehicles on the highway arterials.

"The count for a morning in '59 was 73,268, as compared to a '54 figure of 50,305.

All traffic moving along the main highways into San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and the East Bay core areas were screened during the 6 to 9 a.m. period.

"The Golden Gate Bridge—southbound traffic into San Francisco—accounted for the biggest increase during the peak period, a 97 per cent increase to 8010 cars per day.

Traffic moving up the Peninsula increased 54 per cent to 16,-296 vehicles.

THE BAY Bridge tabulated an increase of 34 per cent in cars moving toward San Francisco—12,873 vehicles on a weekday morning in 1959.

"In all, there were 53 per cent more cars moving toward San Francisco than in the earlier study period.

Triplets Arrive Behind Scenes Of Laf-Frantics

Not all the drama of a show takes place during the performance.

Last Tuesday night at the rehearsal of Laf-Frantics '60, a certain stage-struck female became the proud mother of triplets.

Name of Sophie Tucker.

Sophie is a dachshund who belongs to Laf-Frantics directors Dan and Louise Welty.

THE FIRST-BORN, a male weighing in at three ounces, was instantly dubbed "Laf"—short for laugh. During the second act, "Fran" arrived—a beautiful red-haired girl who yelps in the key of F-natural-ly.

Just as Joan and Art Robson were engaged in a complicated Mexican Hat Dance routine, eyes flashing, teeth snapping, feet stamping, castanets clicking, another male arrived, obviously destined to be known as "Tic."

Perhaps you suspect this is only a publicity story, but it is true. The puppies were born during rehearsal, were named by the cast, and they are beautiful (the ups and the cast). They do actually bear the litter names, Laf, Fran and Tic (the pups and the cast).

MOTHER AND triplets are doing fine. The directors are recovering slowly.

The show is doing fine, too. Incidentally, tickets are still available for "Trial-la-Law" to be seen at the Lafayette Town Hall September 23, 24, 30 and October 1, 7 and 8, at the Town Hall.

Art Ass'n Plans Festival

Entry blanks are being sent out this week to Association members and Bay Area artists for participation in the annual Diablo Art Association Walnut Festival Art Show, September 23, 24 and 25.

This year's show will be hung in the Armory Building, 1800 Carmel Drive, Walnut Creek.

Entries will include oil paintings, water colors, the graphic arts and creative allied art subjects.

Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded in all categories.

General chairman for the exhibit is Mrs. Mona Williams.

An art-in-action section will feature portrait painting, sand casting and pen and ink sketches.

Show hours are from 10-5 during the three days of exhibition. A preview will be held for participating artists and guests on September 22, from 8-10.

Entry blanks may be obtained by contacting headquarters, 2501 Lucy Lane, or by phone.

Answers Not Apparent, But They Must Be Around...

It is pretty easy to get advice as to your personal insurance problems, but when you are the size of Contra Costa County the problem is not so easily solved.

The problem is further complicated when you take into account that a very healthy sum in commissions is involved . . . five per cent this year on a premium of $96,000.

Then there is the problem of service—if the broker of record, in this case Cross and Doyle—is a reliable firm, then the service which the county receives can be beneficial.

And nobody has questioned the ability of the present firm, nor the integrity of former Assemblyman Donald Doyle, a partner in the firm.

BUT THE CONTRA Costa Association of Insurance Agents thinks things could be handled differently. In fact, the association thinks it could handle the business very nicely.

The county's insurance business could, of course, be put out to bid, but many county officials feel that the county's service would suffer severely because undoubtedly a "direct writer" would get the business and he would have no local representative.

Then there is the possibility of the county self insuring. This would save the premiums, and eventually, would pay the county handsomely.

What is the answer to this problem? Frankly, we don't know and there seems to be a good deal of confusion among those in the county who should know.

This would seem to be another case where a committee should be established to report on the best method of handling the county's insurance business.

NOTHING CAN be done, now, until next year and this would give the committee ample time to reach a decision and present the recommendations to the board of supervisors for study and action.

This county does not need to pioneer. It would be a relatively simple matter to find out what the other major counties in the state do, to investigate the other possibilities and to make a recommendation.

Such a committee, if formed, should be given a limited time in which to work — say three or four months — and then should report directly to the supervisors.

Then the board would be in a position to make an intelligent decision on a complex problem.

And the results can be very important to all of us, because it will affect our tax bills, and consequently, our pocketbooks.

Not a Quiz, Really...

Next week it's back to school for the kids.

This is the time when we usually turn to and write an inspired editorial warning all of us who drive to be careful of the youngsters and to kill as few as possible during the ensuing months.

But there is another side to the coin.

It might be an excellent idea if all the parents, of all the school children (and younger ones, too) took a good look around them and made sure that the youngsters are properly trained.

Make sure they know all the rules, and what is more important, that they follow them.

SURE, WE KNOW, it's always the other kids who break the rules — never yours or ours. But that attitude isn't going to help much when somebody walks up to the door to inform us of the injury or death of one of our children.

Do any of your youngsters ride a bike to or from school (or after school, for that matter?).

Do they know that they shouldn't zoom out of a driveway, and that they should obey the traffic rules?

Do any of your youngsters take the school bus? If so, do they know how to behave at the bus stop? Are they aware of the dangers of horseplay beside the road, and what can happen when one of them gives a friendly shove and his pal ends up off balance in the middle of the street?

DO YOUR CHILDREN know that they shouldn't walk three-abreast by the side of the road, and that they should walk facing traffic?

Are they sure that they know that the only place to cross the street is at corners?

This is not a quiz. But if it were, the only acceptable passing grade would be 100 per cent. Anything less than that could mean injury or death for a youngster.

Of course, this doesn't take any of the responsibility from the shoulders of the driver. It merely makes life a little easier for him and saves some gray hairs.

It is still up to us who drive to be alert, to drive slowly in our busy residential neighborhoods, and to remember, above all, that children are children and that they will "forget."

Then, no matter who is right, it is our responsibility as adults to be prepared to avoid a child.

20 Sunset Strip...

Do you know where you live?

Of course you do, but does the fire department?

And have any of your visiting guests had a little difficulty finding the right house?

Chances are, if you have a nice well displayed set of numbers on the front of your house you avoid these difficulties. But in many cases, the numbers exist only on a mailbox at the end of the street or up the block someplace.

THIS IS ALL very well, but in case of emergency, it could be quite serious. Sure, if half the house is on fire, the fire department will simply follow the smoke. They could even use the light of the flames to check the mailbox, if it is at night.

But what about an emergency first aid call? No smoke, no house number, and probably nobody with the time to go out in front and wave the firemen to the door.

You might just check your house numbers — if they exist — to see if they are legible, or whether or not they are grown over with ivy.

AND IN CASE of an emergency, you might remember these tips.

If at night, turn on the house lights if you can . . . better yet, post somebody near the road to help the arriving firemen or doctor.

And during the daytime, help them the same way.

And above all, be sure that your house has a conspicuous label.

When's the Next Dance?

By BOB RAPIDA

The barricades had been erected, militant police officers had rerouted traffic and hundreds of teenagers were converging on the Broadway Shopping Center.

Before long, Walnut Creek's first teenage street dance was under way with 1500 youngsters swinging to records played by popular KEWB Disc Jockey Ted Randal.

BEFORE THE unprecedented event, open skepticism had been shown by city fathers: Would a riot ensue? Could a group of youngsters, representing every high school and intermediate school in the central county area, mix with vacationing college students and servicemen?

The problems, the fears, recent occurrences were all seriously considered by the event's proponents, but only the participants, the teenagers, could provide the absolute answers to these uncertainties.

If a group of youngsters has ever repaid faith placed in them through its behavior, politeness, dress and response, it was so done in Walnut Creek.

OFFICERS VINCE Young and Bud Volz, who were on duty during the evening with other Walnut Creek policemen and reserves, reported the teenagers to be attentive and obedient to traffic directions.

Following the two-hour dance, the streets were cleared and many of the teenagers went on to private parties, or stopped in for a soda or a Coke at one of many local "stops."

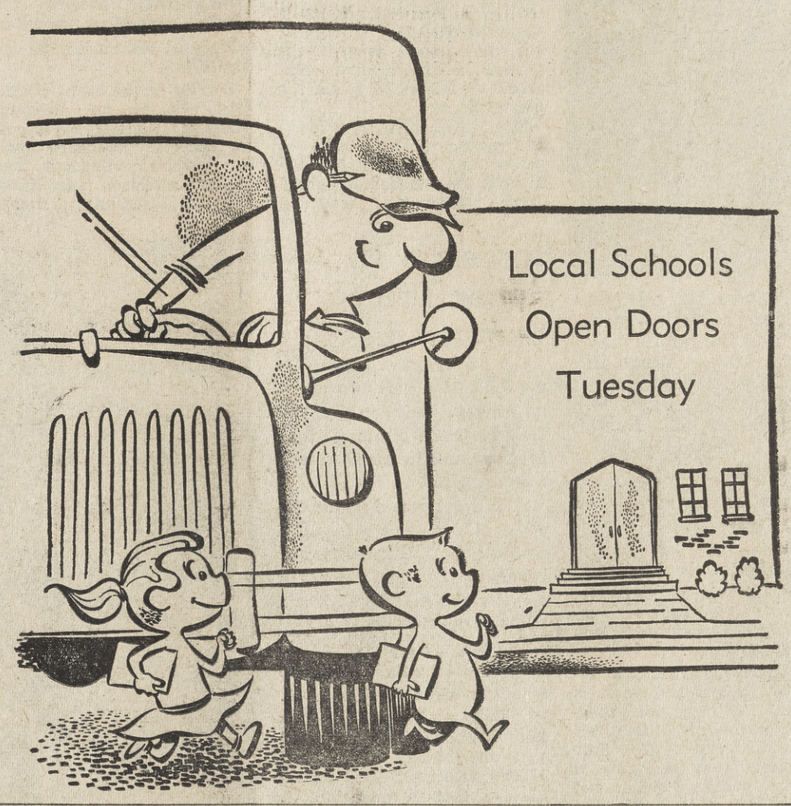
If the "incorrigible 2 percenter" does exist among the ranks of our teenagers, its presence was neither seen nor heard during the record hop.

THE PREMISE that teenagers well appreciate recreational endeavors provided for them was proved to be true. The event's proponents, city officials and recording sponsors should be praised for their foresight and belief in our youngsters.

But, the true praise goes to our youngsters.

Our next record hop should not be far off — our teenagers have more than earned the right to dance on our streets.

It's "Watch the Kids" time again



Letters to The Editor

MALE MAGAZINE

Dear Editor:

I'm from across the waters—San Francisco, to be exact. I was visiting my favorite nephew, Leonard, last Saturday —and of course, his mother and lovable little brother (they are all right too), and as usual, when I'm in Walnut Creek, I picked up the Sun with anticipation.

It was the August 19 issue: Well, I do declare, re: vicarious sex; the letter signed by Mr. Jacuzzi! Why are semi-nude women ash shown in such as Playboy so bitterly condemned, so violently opposed and why do so many believe that such will destroy the earth, as it were, WHEN there are more magazines now catering to deviates than there are those for amusement and entertainment of men! Look at any news stand that specializes in magazines of all types. Males with muscles blown up to bursting proportions; costumes that are questionable, to say the least, and poses that are nauseating to any REAL woman as well as disgusting to any REAL man. Why this terrible fear of the one-sided revelations, women, in pictures whereas the other side, males (?), cause no evil thoughts, damage to morals and outlook? Either the world is blind or the whole world is being organized into license—the line of tolerance has long been passed, any way one looks at the self-discipline picture! . . .

Connie Pike's "Bored With Your Present? . . ." is tremendous; I cut it out for my special scrap book clippings. So smoothly amusing, with a twinkle of satire but no bitterness. Extremely good, I think. Real humor is like Connie's, clever, gentle, knowing but without bite and condemnation (without hurt) and not contrived. How many humorous columnists or so called wits have that? Very few. Slap down the under-dog and that is funny? Connie went along with the fortune teller, knowing that she was a person, in her own right; amusing, in a way sincere, colorful, a little pathetic, but a human being — that HUMAN quality is the heart of wit and living and it is most rare, but Connie Pike has it.

VIOLET SWAIN

CHLOROFORM

Dear Editor:

Regarding the many articles pro and con about Pets and Pals and the Animal Control Center at Martinez:

I am most interested in the methods of euthanasia. I have been to both places. Pets and Pals use chloroform, and the animals that must be put to sleep DO NOT come in contact with the cloth the chloroform is on.

BUT at the Animal Control Center I found this situation: they have a euthanaire which was full of dogs being put to sleep, the attendant told me.

They also have a chloroform box. I asked about that and he said it was for cats, kittens and small dogs and puppies.

The box was approximately 1½ or 2 feet by 3 feet. In the center was a hole about 4" in diameter with a screen over it. It extended down about 3" into the box.

In the bottom of this hole was some cotton, about enough to cover the bottom of a cup. There was a cat in a sack on the floor. It was trying to get out.

I said "Why don't you put the cat in the box and chloroform it and not wait to empty the euthenaire?"

He said that would be a good idea and he put it in there still in the sack. Then he took a glass syringe with the bulb on top and had perhaps a half cup of chloroform which he squeezed all at once into this hole on the old cotton.

What was to prevent the cat or what would prevent puppies or kittens from running right under the chloroform that dripped down? Would they not perhaps get it in their eyes or on their feet?

Mr. Nielsen told me, when I talked to him, that the FUMES of chloroform would by themselves burn eyes and feet.

Would it not be much worse if it were dripping directly on them?

There should be air holes in any box or receptacle used for this purpose. The one at Pets and Pals has them but the one at the pound has none that I could see except the one at the top where the chloroform is poured in.

There should be fresh cotton always. Also this box has an insufficient fastening at the door, and animals in their struggle could push it open.

When Pets and Pals place dogs in new homes they put their tag on them and insist that if the new owner cannot keep them, for some reason, the dogs must be returned to Pets and Pals.

Mr. Nielsen and the pound insist these returned animals be given to them as strays, which they are not.

Pets and Pals wish to place them in another home instead of the euthanaire.

MRS. RALPH HANVILLE

RAPID TRANSIT

(The following is a copy of a letter sent to Harry Morrison, Jr., a Contra Costa County director of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, by Harold E. Mutnick, chairman of the Diablo Highway Federation).

Dear Editor:

Since word has reached me that you had reported at one or more public meetings that the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation has officially endorsed the proposed Olympic Boulevard route of BARTD through Lafayette, may I set the record straight.

The board of directors of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation has never taken any action approving or disapproving the proposed routing of rapid transit through Lafayette. Please correct your records accordingly.

We Like It Here...

Guess Who Feels Like-- A Last Rose of Summer

By MARIE MONAHAN

NOBODY has to tell ME it's the tag end of summer.

Nerves frazzled & frayed, I'm in the throes—of feeling like a wilted rose!

Around & around & around it goes . . .

THE TOWELS are shredded & torn, the swim suits tattered & worn . . . & no matter how LATE to bed they go, the kiddies are up & out shouting before a decent hour of the morn!

There are holes in the jeans & no soles on the keds.

The house is an obstacle coure of bats & balls, games on the floor & unmade beds.

I've played Musical-children with scores of pint-sized guests—who've given my temper more than a few mean tests!

THE GARDEN is flowerless, leaves curled crisp & dry . . . & I've waved the white flag at bee, ant & fly.

I've surrendered to the insect world the best I am able . . . No longer am I surprised to find frogs & bird's nests dropped on the dining room table.

THE PETS are plain tired of being played with & petted.

The cat hides out from the well-aimed water guns, rubber guns & the teasing stream of garden hose that sends her six feet in the air from a snooze in the sun. Even the dog seeks solace under my ironing board, weary of being lassoed, leashed & playing the part of Lassie . . . or Fury . . . especially when he's not even a collie, let alone a horse!

Every drawer in the house has become a Junk Drawer—a secret cache for coin collections, saving stamps, decks of cards, pieces from the Monopoly game, & sundry sunglasses, bathing caps & such!

I'M TIRED of baseball & ready for football.

My appetite's jaded. I'm over-lemonaded. I've had my fill of hamburgers, hot dogs, quickie casseroles & skewered meat. A long-cooking stew will be a real treat!

I'll welcome sweaters & skirts & maybe a few new frocks with a little frou-frou . . . to get out of this rut of swimsuit & Muu-Muu!

I can't WAIT to put up just THREE lunches in brown paper bags—instead of turning out mass-produced meals & snacks with the speed & dexterity of a super-duper Drive-In.

The go-aheads or thongs, whatever YOU call 'em, are kicking around all over the place but find me TWO that match, if you CAN!

There are moths in the rugs, cocoons in the curtains, cobwebs in the corner & worms in the walnuts . . . Fruit flies in the sherry, dead bees in the window, ants in the jam jar & dried seed pods in the fireplace.

'TIS THE LAST ROSE of Summer—when the tan has turned to pallor & I buck the shopping crowds with beaded brow & brood in hand—to outfit them for school & blow the budget for keds & khakis, saddles, sweaters & skirts!

THE DAYS seem longer & my temper is shorter.

The children are wilder & my holler is LOUDER. (In fact, sometimes I honestly feel like Taking A Powder!)

The radios are both broken & the hi-fi needs a new needle. The refrigerator is underloaded after a big company weekend & the washing machine is OVERloaded!

THE SLEEPING BAGS need dry cleaning, the deck chairs need patching, the hammock needs mending & the house needs painting!

I've got mildew in the ironing basket, lizards loose in the lounge, butterflies under glass & possums in the garbage can!

TO TELL YOU the truth, there are Bats In My Belfry & the sound of the school bus swinging around the bend will be music to my ears!

Under The Sun

Grab a Pencil, Have Fun, Giving Us Heck!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Do you read "county news" printed in The Sun? Do you read the sports page, garden news or "Staff Corner" on this page?

How often do you read the obituaries or stork club—almost always, sometimes or never?

Do you think The Sun should print more human interest feature stories? More local interviews? More or less school news? Do you want more or less news of the adjoining communities?

A regular question box . . .

Yes, I'm full of questions today. And perhaps you've already seen the reason.

On page 1 today you'll find a "Five-minute Questionnaire." It asks you to mark on the check list what you read and don't read in The Sun.

By filling this out, you will help us give you the kind of Sun you want. Your criticism and comments will be most welcome. You can write them on the back of the coupon.

Note that you do not need a stamp or envelope. Just cut out the form and fold it into envelope size. Then, scotch tape or staple or seal the end together. And drop it into the mail box. The postage is pre-paid.

We're trying to keep the mechanics very simple, so that you will find it easy to participate.

A great opportunity

This will give you a chance to tell us what you don't like about The Sun — and what you would do to improve it. This will give the staff a chance to make many changes.

We are constantly trying to improve The Sun.

In recent weeks Associate Editor Dick Osborn has been testing some make-up changes — using more horizontal heads and larger pictures. News Editors Norm Colby, Larry Glazier and Jean Jernigan are dreaming up more picture layouts and feature stories. Connie Pike is now writing a weekly human interest feature.

This past year we have enlarged our coverage of school news, offering more from individual schools. We have started the "Woman of the Week" interview on the Women's Pages and opened up these pages. The staff is working hard to expand the sports pages.

'You' in the story

We are trying to write the "hard news" as it relates to you. For example, if the county supervisors are wrestling with the annual budget, we try to point out how it will affect you — on your tax bill. We constantly try to explain the background of the news — and not just present the cold facts themselves.

Within the limits of our manpower, The Sun tries to dig, question, analyze, find out why something is being done — or not being done. I wish we had 10 extra reporters, so we could do a better job.

While we are not satisfied, I am proud that our hard-working newsmen and The Sun have been honored with four awards for "Outstanding Community Service" in the past 10 years. This is more than any other newspaper, daily or weekly, in California.

Pat ourselves on the back

As you know, The Sun has been awarded 24 state and national honors, including "General Excellence," "Best Editorial Page," "Best Women's Interest Coverage," "Best Newspaper Promotion and Community Relations," "Best Classified Section," etc.

We are pleased to receive these awards — but are far from satisfied. We know we goof now and then. We know we can do better.

Won't you help us by filling in the questionnaire? Thank you.

Rowan Branch Plans Cruise By Moonlight

Tuneful banjos, strolling minstrels, and happy songs will echo across San Francisco Bay the evening of September 10 when Rowan Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, takes to the high seas for its second annual "Moonlight Cruise."

Merry-makers gathering for the party will depart from Oakland's Jack London Square pier at 7:30 p.m. for the three-hour sail, passing Golden Gate Bridge, Belvedere and Tiburon before returning home.

Light-hearted melodies with a "twenties" flavor will be sung to the strum of a gay group of banjos while the ship glides across the bay. Plans are for a gala group-sing with all guests joining in.

The sea-faring beau brummels and their best gals will also enjoy an old-fashioned box supper on board, consisting of fried chicken and green salad, topped off with dessert just like grandma used to make.

Arrangements for the party are being handled by Mrs. Albert Tornlof of Oakland, assisted by Mrs. Burton Grant, also of Oakland.

Among Rowan members planning to make up cruise parties of friends for attending the affair are the Mesdames and Messrs. Richard Frost, Ronald Hubbard and Eric Nielsen, all of Orinda; William Farnsworth, Alfred Masters Jr., Harold Smith, John P. Louanne Blasquez Weds Louanne Blasquez became the bride of Frank Laffey Dwinnell, Jr., at Nuptial Mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Walnut Creek at 11 a.m. August 27.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Eliseo G. Blasquez, the bride wore a white peau de soie princess style gown. White Alencon lace fashioned the top, which was finished with a round neck and long pointed sleeves.

A long panel lined in delicate pink topped the chapel train which fell from a large bow at the waist. A crown of pearls and crystal held the illusion veil. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Reverend Patrick McCarthy performed the ceremony and offered the mass. The bride was attended by Helen Marie Dwinnell, sister of the groom as maid of honor.

She wore a street length dress of white peau de soie, with scoop neck, three quarter sleeves and gathered skirt. Her headpiece was a small white bandeau with white veil and she carried pink and white roses.

The junior bridesmaid was Mary-Elena Blasquez, the bride's 10 year old sister. Her dress was fashioned of white silk organza over taffeta with full skirt and wide collar and sash. Rozanne Blasquez, 7, another sister of the bride was the flower girl.

John Blasquez, 6, brother of the bride was the ring bearer.

Charles Dwinnell was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Gary Bogue and John Kershner of Concord and Santos Blasquez and Edward Weiner, uncles of the bride. The bride's brother, James is serving with the Marine Corps in Hawaii and was unable to attend the wedding.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Blasquez chose a jacketed sheath dress of American Beauty shade and wore white accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white Amazon lilies.

The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of green and blue floral print with bone accessories. Her corsage was a creamy cymbidium orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the Alamo Women's Club.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Dwinnell of Concord, the groom will continue his medical studies at the University of California. The couple will live in Berkeley.

Mrs. Huenink Has a Charming Southern Drawl...

Serving Others Brings Happiness To This Lady

Women in The Sun

Friday, September 2, 1960

By JEAN JERRIGAN

Raised on a cotton plantation in Southern Eastern Arkansas, Mrs. Donald Huenink of Diablo is the personification of the true dignity, charm and graciousness of the deep South.

Beneath the gentle exterior of this Southern lady, however, lies both ability and talent, which coupled with her love of people has led to many hours of community service.

"I like people, I like to be of service and enjoy working with them in organizations that make our community a better place to live," Mary Huenink related.

CLOSE TO the hearts of both Mary and Don Huenink is their work with the Community Presbyterian Church of Danville. They joined the church soon after coming to Diablo six and a half years ago. He is an elder and she is a deacon.

In addition to their duties in these positions, the Hueninks helped to organize a church school class for high school students about four years ago, and have been teaching high school classes since that time.

Less dedicated parents would probably recoil in utter exhaustion at the mere contemplation of the round of activities the Hueninks breeze through in genuine enjoyment with their high school groups.

SKI TRIPS to the Sierra, a planned social activity once a month, hikes up Mt. Diablo and supervising the after game dances held at the church during football season are just a few of the extra curricular activities in which they participate with the high school students.

"We feel the dances after the football games are important," Mrs. Huenink remarked, "because as most parents are aware, no self-respecting high school student is ready to go home to bed at 10 p.m. after being keyed up at a game.

"There was no place for them to go, so we started holding the dances at the church. We serve simple refreshments, and whether they dance or not, the youngsters seem to have a good time just being there together. Someone once remarked they were using the church as a 'hangout,' but can you think of a better place for them to congregate?"

WHEN THE Huenink boys, John, now 17 and a senior at San Ramon, and Henry, 12, an eighth grade student at Charlotte Wood School, first began school in the east, Mary Huenink became active with PTA.

Prior to coming to Diablo, she served in many offices of PTA including that of president. Since living in Diablo, Mrs. Huenink has avoided the "top" offices of PTA, in order to be able to serve the parent groups at both of her sons' schools.

Publicity chairman is her usual role, but she has served or will be serving this year in such capacities as safety chairman, head room mother, nominating committee, executive board, and evaluation study committee. "I just like to help out with school things," said Mrs. Huenink.

She likes to help out, too, with affairs of the Mary Doyle Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center of which she is an active member.

"SOON AFTER we came to Diablo," she recalled, "I heard that there was such an organization. A friend mentioned she was driving a patient to the center for therapy. At that time I didn't know that the center used professional therapists.

"I volunteered to help out, because when John was four he had polio and I had been taught how to do therapy work.

"Realizing how important therapy is for these patients, I wanted to help," she continued. "I was invited to join the group, and have been busy ever since."

Mary Doyle Unit is primarily composed of women from all over the San Ramon Valley. One of their important functions is providing tranportation for patients who would otherwise have no way of getting to the center from their far flung homes throughout the valley.

MEMBERS OF the unit also help out at the center with secretarial and hostess duties and the unit as a group conducts fund raising events each year in order to assist the Therapy Center financially.

"I enjoy my work with the unit," Mrs. Huenink remarked. "I particularly enjoy the women I have met. The unit represents no one type of social or economic group, and the women are wonderful."

Mrs. Huenink graduated from the University of Arkansas where she was an English major with a minor in journalism. It is not difficult to see why she is also publicity chairman for the Mary Doyle Unit. She was a Phi Beta Kappa and also a member of the Mortar Board.

FREQUENTLY she helps out with the Parakeets and also assists their publicity chairman. The Parakeets are young girls, who with the guidance of members of the Mary Doyle Unit are being trained for service in their community.

After two terms, one of three year duration and one of two years as a Cub Scout den mother, Mary Huenink still has the energy and interest to "help out" with affairs of the Danville Junior Horseman's Association.

Helping out means being on hand at the twice weekly practices in their arena, accompanying 58 youngsters on overnight trail rides, and generally having the stamina to be both rider, guide and chaperone.

The Hueninks have two trail horses. Sierra King, who is John's mount, and a little bay mare, Wendy, that Mrs. Huenink rides. Dirk is the family German Shepherd, who does a good job of guarding their home at the base of Mt. Diablo.

IN ADDITION, son Henry has a family of cats. "I hesitate to count how many," Mary Huenink laughed, "because it really is a family. Somehow when the kittens arrive Henry just can't part with them. This one is so cute, that one so fuzzy, or this one so ugly no one would want him, and our cat family just grows."

Horseback riding, gardening and swimming are Mrs. Hueninks leisure time favorites. "We don't do anything very exciting," she remarked. "I like to be at home and be available for pool supervising when the boys have company. We really enjoy our home, being together and having friends in.

WE HAVE enjoyed trips in the past, and will eventually plan more to Wisconsin where Don's family lives and to my folks in Arkansas. It is difficult for Don to get away in the summer, so we have to plan our visits around vacations and the like."

Mrs. Huenink also enjoys dramatics and directs the church's two yearly plays. As a matter of fact, as Mary Huenink's friends know, there is not much she doesn't like and if the activity is services for others, she's in there pitching.

SHARING her son's interest in the Danville Junior Horseman's Association, Mrs. Donald Huenink of Diablo has accompanied the group on many trail rides. Here she smiles goodbye, as John, astride Sierra King, leaves for a ride through the trails of Diablo.

Peggy Field Is Queen Candidate

Friendly and gracious Peggy Field, a candidate for the title, "Queen of Children's Hospital of the East Bay," has an added bonus of being a most attractive blue-eyed blonde.

A member of Lombardy Branch of Children's Hospital, Peggy is Mrs. Robert Wilson Field of 52 Via Floreada, Orinda. She is being sponsored in the contest by Alder, Heather, Laurel Jr., Lombardy, Mayten, Orinda, Papaya and Poplar Branches, reflecting a new concept in the contest which allows a group of branches to back one candidate.

HER HOPEFUL campaigners are anxiously awaiting the voting party to be held October 22. At the bewitching hour of midnight the new "Queen of Children's Hospital" will be announced. She will reign for a full year, representing the hospital at several events.

Peggy is a native of Berkeley and was graduated from College of Marin. Though a full-time job in itself, being the mother of three boys, Robert, Jr., 8, James, 6, and Kendall, 3 doesn't stop her from entering wholeheartedly into many community activities.

She is active in the Orinda Nursery School, serves as a Cub Scout den mother, as a precinct worker and as a model in fashion shows held by the various Children's Hospital branches.

WHEN THERE are a few spare moments left to relax, Peggy takes up her sewing. Another favorite pastime, gardening, is enjoyed by both Peggy and her husband, Robert Field, who is the president of Custom Paper Products in San Francisco.

Prep Football Teams Begin Practices This Week

Coach Mattson Gets Some Well-Deserved Plaudits

By LARRY GLAZIER

We're not in the habit of tooting our own horn, but an opportunity has developed which we think is just too good to pass up.

About two weeks ago, on August 21 to be exact, the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League invaded the Bay Area to meet the San Francisco '49ers in an exhibition game at Kezar Stadium.

The Eagles were led by Norm Van Brocklin, an Acalanes High School graduate who has become one of the NFL's all-time great quarterbacks.

At that time, The Sun's sports writer, Coach Erwin Mattson, the athletic director at Acalanes, took time out from his summer responsibilities to watch the game and visit with Van Brocklin following the contest.

In these columns last week, Matt told what he thought of the Eagles' quarterback. He concluded his column with the words, "To see such a competitor grow and develop is one of the finest rewards of coaching."

It should make Matt feel even better to know that Van Brocklin and others who have played for Acalanes have the same respect for him as he has for them.

Because during "The Dutchman's" stay in the Bay Area, sports columnists from the large metropolitan dailies also talked to Van Brocklin, and he managed to include a very kind word for Mattson in each of his public statements.

For example, Van Brocklin told Ray Haywood of the Oakland Tribune:

"Football has been good to me, perhaps because I was lucky enough to come along at the right time for the T-formation. I was such a poor runner as a single wing tailback at Acalanes High that I might have quit if Coach Erwin Mattson hadn't encouraged me to stick with it. I owe him a debt for his help."

Matt's efforts on behalf of central county sports and the men he thinks qualify as good sportsmen have already become legendary. In addition to Van Brocklin, there's Don Ferrarese, major league pitcher, and others who have made the grade.

Even before Matt's days of coaching have been completed he is being honored continuously by sportmen in the local area. The Lafayette Little League baseball field bears his name, to cite one instance.

We're proud of Matt, and we think he's given quite a bit to athletics and athletes in the central county.

He's more than deserving of Van Brocklin's praise.

Diablo Bowmen Will Spend Weekend Building Range

By ERWIN MATTSON

The Diablo Bowmen are really up in arms this weekend as they go to work on their recently acquired 40-acre site located on the north gate road to Mt. Diablo, bordering the Turtie Rock Ranch.

The group, consisting of approximately 50 families, will work on clearing the site, setting up bales for targets, developing picnic and barbecue areas as well as work on a clubhouse on the site.

It will probably take six to eight months to accomplish the many things to be done.

Chairman Roy Middlekauff, in charge of the event, announces that the club is seeking additional members and anyone interested in the popular sport of archery should contact him at 1005 Almanor Lane, Lafayette, AT 3-2567.

The club at present has members from Pittsburg, Berkeley, Antioch, Martinez, Concord, Danville, Pleasant Hill and Lafayette. It is emphasized that the only qualification necessary is interest in the bow-and-arrow sport.

The range, when completed, will be one of the best equipped in the state as it will have complete sanitary facilities along with the luxury of electricity and running water.

I had a chance to observe the LaMorinda Thunderbirds in action Saturday as they scrimmaged with the Sequoia Lions from Redwood City.

It was the first try at outside competition for the local eleven and stage fright was evident in the early stages of the play.

Once they got the feel they came back strong and showed to good advantage. It was really surprising how well some of the backs in particular ran and the job they did at tackling and blocking.

It is natural and instructive for a player in his first real contact to wonder in his own mind how he will react when he gets hit hard. Most boys like contact sports and enjoy it once they get a bit of it under their belts.

Coach Pete Villa and his assistants have done a good job in the short time they have been at work and with another scrimmage or two will have a much better line on the candidates.

The problem as always is cutting the squad down to the league limits. It's not a difficult job in the beginning when many cut themselves through lack of attendance and lack of real desire.

The problem really comes in the final cuts when often players are even-stephen but someone must be dropped.

This is the moment that every coach dislikes but one of the jobs that goes along with coaching.

Hats Off To...

Orinda's Gold Medalist, Swimmer Carolyn Schuler

Carolyn Schuler, our own 17-year-old Olympic gold medalist, brought honor to her home town of Orinda, the central county and California by bringing the United States five big points in the women's 100-meter butterfly swim event at Rome.

The Orinda miss, a June graduate of Miramonte High School, took the difficult butterfly event on Tuesday by shattering her own Olympic record, set the previous day in qualifying heats. Carolyn's time on Tuesday was 1:09.5, three-tenths of a second less than her time on Monday.

Miss Schuler was recognized by some observers as the dark horse of the central county's three Olympic swimmers until she qualified for the squad through her efforts in the Detroit trials.

Because she wanted to be certain to be graduated with her class and also had a tremendous desire to make the Olympic team, Miss Schuled did not compete in any events in the late spring or early summer.

Instead, she devoted her full time to school and to working out by herself three times daily in her family's pool in Sleepy Hollow. Her only competition prior to the Olympics this summer was at the Detroit trials.

Congratulations, Carolyn!

Tbirds Look Good in 1st Scrimmage

The LaMorinda Thunderbirds, local entry in the Pop Warner Football League, held an informal scrimmage with the Sequoia Lions Saturday afternoon on the Miramonte High field.

The Sequoia Lions represent Redwood City and have been playing in the league for a number of years.

THE SCRIMMAGE session gave the players game experience and provided the coaches with a much better evaluation of the 35 players on hand and a better basis on which to cut the squad down from the present 35 to the league limit of 30.

The roster of 30 must be filed on September 10 with the league opening play on September 18 when the Thunderbirds meet Millbrae on the Miramonte gridiron.

Players on the squad to date as released by head coach Pete Villa are as follows:

QUARTERBACK: Pat Pease, Greg LeGrande, Jim Cunningham; fullbacks: Ron Macarrio, Doug Dermit, Dave Texdahl; halfbacks: Charles Bond, Charles Eldred, Brian Madden, Steve Bradley, Steve Hair, Gary Davies.

Ends: Tom Archer, Scott Babcock, Jim Tucker, Don Texdahl, Pat Dewing, Bob Walthrup, Jeff Patton; tackles: Dave Robinson, Bob Macarrio, Warren Webster, Pat Haley, Bill Prince, Don Baitx.

Guards: Jim Strelo, John Poole, Jeff Campbell, Bob DeGraffinreid, Jack Isola, Steve Totten, Bill Pilgrim; centers: Jan Botjer, Rick Anger, Greg Patton, Jim Simpson.

Oakland Dinner Will Honor Rig

The Oakland Knights and Knaves, a men's social organization, will honor Bill Rigney at a special stag "appreciation dinner" at Capriotti's Restaurant in Oakland September 12, it was announced last week.

Rigney, Walnut Creek resident who was fired earlier this year from his post as manager of the San Francisco Giants, will receive the thanks of club members and their friends for the kind of major league baseball Rigney and the Giants provided since arriving in San Francisco in 1958.

The club voted to stage the dinner after its members agreed that the Giants made a mistake in firing Rigney.

First Warmup Skirmishes Set for September 16

Football on the prep front got into action this week as players fresh from a summer vacation hit the opening practice session.

Physical examination and issue of equipment was the first order of the day as coaches and players opened the first practice sessions.

The opening games for most are set for Friday, September 16 and that means a lot of hours of work to achieve condition as well as skill.

CHALK TALKS and some two-a-day sessions will be aimed at getting the clubs ready for that crucial first game.

Coaches as per custom are cautious in discussing their clubs, but as always for the most part are optimistic as they discuss their chances to cop that championship.

In a week to 10 days a much better line will be had by all as regards team personnel. Shifts in position are for the most part a daily occurrence and teams as such will begin to shape up after the first scrimmage sessions are held.

Miramonte will travel to Clayton Valley for a 3:30 p.m. game on Friday, September 16.

OTHER LOCAL teams playing on September 16 in night games are Las Lomas at Pleasant Hill, San Ramon at Livermore, Pacifica at Tamalpais, Redwood City at Mt. Diablo, San Ramon at Livermore, Antioch at Sonora, and Pittsburg at Santa Rosa.

Two members of the Foothill League which operates as a league of its own for the first time this year drew a bye on Sept. 16 and play their opener September 23.

On the 23rd Acalanes plays host to Pleasant Hill and Piedmont plays Washington High of San Francisco at Piedmont. All night games are slated for an 8 p.m. starting time.

Leagues Start At Rheem Bowl Tuesday Night

Though still not officially opened, Rheem Center Bowl is presently accepting applications from individuals and teams for league competition.

Starting times for men's and women's handicap and scratch matches is 6 or 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday evenings. League play begins Tuesday.

JUNIOR and housemaker's league action has been scheduled for afternoons of the midweek. Tentative arrangements for a St. Mary's league also have hold on a midweek afternoon and Sunday evening.

Other times have been designated as open bowling or held for special events. Even during league play, the management hopes to hold several alleys free to the public.

Bob Tank, manager of the bowling facilities and equipment, suggests that both teams and individuals contact the center promptly to secure for themselves the most convenient times and dates.

THE TELEPHONE number of the 24-lane alley is DRake 6-4495. Correspondence should be sent to Bob Tank, Rheem Center Bowl, Rheem Boulevard and Moraga Road.

Tank is one of the select 400 that claim membership in the ABC, American Bowling Congress. Most of the television bowling stars are holders of the cherished gold membership card that Bob earned in his 20 years of organized bowling.

Tank, the owner of a perfect game, will conduct all instructions, group or individual, after the center opens October 1.

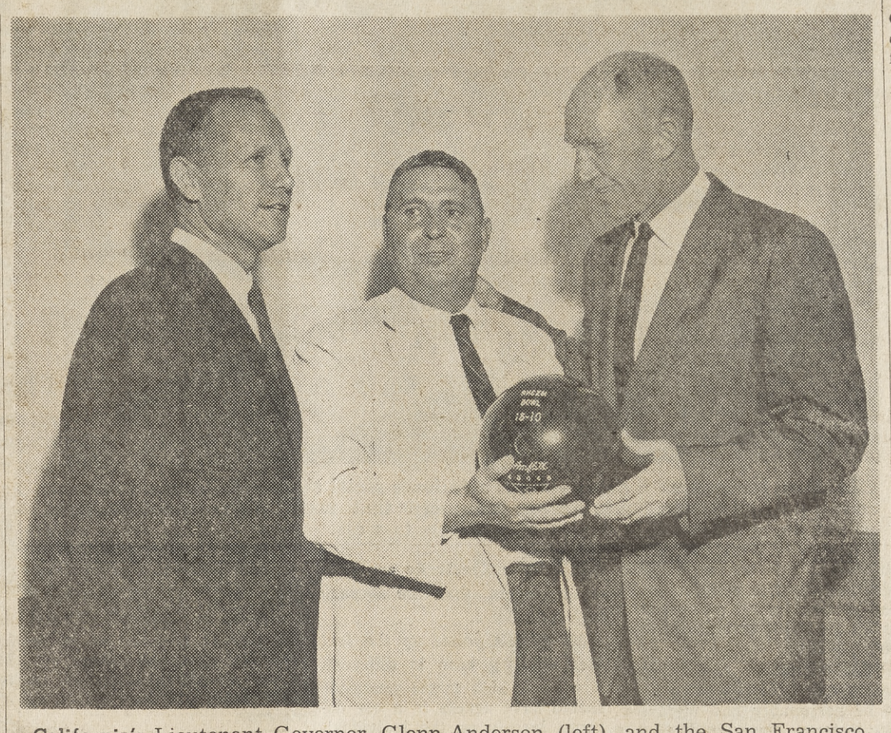
Pins Are Really Flying at the New Rheem Center Bowl

WELCOMING THE press and state and local celebrities to a special preview showing of the new Rheem Center Bowl last Friday was Dr. Chester Eslinger (front left), Bay Area physician and president of the bowl's board of directors. Others in the front row are, from the left, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Glenn Anderson and Alfred Schlesinger of San Francisco, chairman of the Pacific Festival. In the rear are some of the beauties in the Pacific Festival — from the left, Evelyn Beltran of the Philippines, Diane Beeson of Netherlands New Guinea, Denise Robert of Costa Rica and Miss Chinatown, Shirley Wong.



California's Lieutenant Governor, Glenn Anderson (left), and the San Francisco '49ers veteran quarterback, Y. A. Tittle (right), discuss some of the features of the new Rheem Center Bowl with George Potorff, public relations chief for the 24-lane bowling establishment. The bowl opened to the public Saturday after a press preview on Friday, and the grand opening will be celebrated October 1. League play for the million-dollar bowling center will begin next week.

Gaels Take Early Look At Basketball Prospects

Led by All American candidate Tom Meschery, but lacking depth and experience, the St. Mary's Galloping Gaels basketball team will kick off the 1960-61 season December 1 against Stanford at Palo Alto.

Coach Jim Weaver's entire squad numbers only 11 and includes five sophomores. Weaver is counting on his second year men to take up the slack left by the loss of last year's starters Larry Brennan, Phil Hart, and Bill Leedom.

In addition to Meschery, the Gaels look to big Al Claiborne and Gene Womack to carry the major share of the work.

The rest of the schedule follows:

December 1, at Stanford; 3, Long Beach State; 5, Humboldt State; 10, at California (Berkeley); 12, at California Aggies; 15, at Evansville; 17, at Minnesota; 20, at Utah; 26-30, WCAC Tournament at USF; 27, Fordham at USF.

January 6*, at Loyola (LA Sports Arena); 7*, at Pepperdine (LA Sports Arena); 28, at California Poly (San Luis Obispo); 30, at Humboldt State.

February 1*, Pepperdine; 3, at San Diego State; 8*, at USF; 11*, Santa Clara (Oakland Auditorium); 14*, COP; 18*, Loyola; 24*, at San Jose State; 25*, USF (Oakland Auditorium).

March 3*, at Santa Clara; 4*, San Jose State; 7*, at COP.

Should High Schoolers Own Cars?

Some Say Good Grades And Cars Don't Mix

Should Junior own a car while in high school?

Arguments both pro and con are set forth in the following article by John Corey, sponsored by Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity in education.

Parents make a crucial decision when they answer the car question. And it's not to be avoided. In our mobile society, Junior's almost certain to bring the matter to a head.

His arguments may boil down to this:

USED CARS are inexpensive nowadays. Machines that actually run can be bought for less than $100, not much more than a bicycle.

Walking to school from his distant suburban home pains him. And he knows it's even more painful for Mom and Dad to chauffeur.

Maintaining and caring for one's own auto can be educational. It's like taking an extra course in science.

What's more, this is the wheel age. Who walks? That's for squares!

Is there a parent anwhere who hasn't heard the "all my friends do" argument?

Junior may not put in so many words his most compelling motive: A vehicle increases social prestige. Girls go for boys with cars. A student without wheels feels like a nobody.

Junior presents a good case. But check him — he'll probably omit one important negative point.

TOO OFTEN, good grades and cars don't mix!

That's the opinion of many educators across the continent, from California to New York.

An Idaho high school principal last year triggered a chain of investigations of car-grade relationships when he reported that not one straight-A student among his seniors owned or had "ready access" to a car.

Only 15 per cent of the B students drove cars to school.

But 41 per cent of the C students and 71 per cent of the D students had cars. And what of failing pupils? A jolting 83 per cent had the use of wheels!

This and other studies (some of them not altogether scientific) led the National Education Association at Washington to survey the opinions of principals, supervisors, teachers, and pupils of 16 states.

Among results of the NEA's 2½-month canvass: 95 per cent of educators believe that cars can and do drag grades down.

WILLIAM CONDIT, a Los Angeles vice principal, observed that the high school car owner can actually joy-ride himself right out of an education. He may wind up quitting school, or at least athletics, to get a job so he can keep the vehicle perking.

Pupils usually find their car upkeep and operation costs much higher than they expected. One source puts the minimum yearly expenses for a car at about $1000.

One of the major cost items for the unmarried male under 25 is insurance. He pays double for minimum insurance, up to $400, his penalty for causing $125 million in property damage and bodily injury annually.

Some companies knock ten per cent off the premium if the youngster has taken a driver education course, but rates are still frightening.

The high accident rate among youth, some observers think, indicates that youngsters are generally too immature to drive autos, much less own them. In some states opinion leaders have called for a higher licensing age for drivers.

And many high schools and universities throughout the country have already totally banned the driving of autos to school grounds.

But those who have studied the problem on a more scientific basis believe that a general restriction is not the best solution. This is, indeed, a mobile age. To ban driving for all youngsters is unfair to many who are capable and careful.

THE CRITICAL factor is not necessarily age. It's more likely to be personality and mentality. For instance, many students who own cars and make poor grades would get low marks, car or no car. Some of them want a car because they make low grades, just as some turn to delinquency when frustrated in conventional avenues to success.

High school principals in wealthy communities report that cars don't usually hinder studies where well-heeled parents bear operating costs of vehicles their offspring drive.

Robert L. Milliken, a South Dakota State College counselor, compared grades of South Dakota male freshmen with cars against grades of freshmen without cars. When students with similar ability were compared, there was little difference in grade averages.

THE AVERAGE college student's IQ and maturity are higher, of course, than the average high schooler's.

All of this points up the fact that every case is different. Whether a high school youngster should have access to a car depends largely on the individual. How would you judge him?

1. Does he look upon a car primarily as transportation and not as a status symbol, offering power and prestige? 2. Can he maintain and use the car without devoting less time and interest to study? 3. Can he generally be trusted to exercise judgment and make wise decisions when you're not around?

If you as the parent can answer an objective yes to these key questions, Junior should be a safe bet with a car. If not, a vehicle in his hands is as dangerous as a loaded gun!

GIRLS go for boys with autos—but as a fellow's social stock goes up his scholastic record may go down. Educators are convinced that many high school students would do better work if denied easy access to a car.

Keep your tires properly inflated and check them often for cuts, breaks and excessive wear, advises the National Automobile Club.

Oregon grape is a native shrub that seems to do well wherever it is planted in California. Though it is said to require sun in the north and along the coastal belt, as well as shade in the hot interior valleys, it does well in all environs.

Engineers Group Plans Convention

The northern section of the Structural Engineers Association of California will be host when the group has its annual convention at Yosemite October 6, 7, 8.

Over 500 structural engineers and their wives are expected to overflow the Ahwanee Hotel, Yosemite Lodge and Camp Curry for a visit to "Old San Francisco," the theme of this year's convention.

MANY INTERESTING touches are being planned to please the conventioneers, including a cable car to transport the guests around the valley.

A large committee, headed by Mrs. F. Robert Preece of Lafayette, has been meeting since January to plan favors and activities for the feminine guests. The first event Thursday will be a wine-tasting party.

FRIDAY NOON will feature "Luncheon at the Palace" during which the international collection of fashions belonging to Miss Nancy de Herrera of Piedmont will be shown.

Among the committee members are Mrs. Theodore Newman of Lafayette, assistant chairman; Mrs. Peter Grayum, Lafayette, fashion show chairman; and Mrs. Merrill Neumann, Alamo, luncheon chairman.

Full-Time Litter Officer Named; Training Ahead

Ten thousand litter bags, advertising the campaign of the Contra Costa County Highway Cleanup Committee, will be distributed from the county's booth at the California State Fair.

Authorization for the distribution was voted at the committee's August meeting in Martinez.

Undersheriff Harry Ramsey announced that Sheriff Walter Young has appointed Leslie H. Currier as the county's first full time litter control officer.

Currier, who lives at 5078 Laurel Drive, Concord, will be sent to Monterey County for a week's training with Dale Cox, the state's only other full time litter control officer. He will return for duty about September 15.

Currier, 41, has been employed by the sheriff's department since June 2, 1953, and is a grade two deputy.

He is a graduate of Mt. Diablo High School and the Western Police Academy and has taken courses in police work at the University of California and the Institute of Applied Science.

R. D. Broatch of the Public Works Department told the committee a truck is being equipped for use on a full time basis by the new litter control officer.

Supervisor W. G. Buchanan, who presided, announced a meeting in Los Angeles, October 14, by "Keep America Beautiful, Inc."

Assistant Schools Superintendent Harold DeFraga announced that the school department plans to include instruction in litter control in the driver education program.

Afflicted Boys Enjoying Camp; Drive to Begin

Three area youngsters afflicted with muscular dystrophy, are camping this week and next in a program sponsored by the Contra Costa Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

Two of the boys, Geoffrey Nichol, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nichol of 10 Ardor Drive, Orinda, and James Rose, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marciel Rose of 1014 Santa Monica Court, Pleasant Hill, are attending Camp Campbell, a special camp for handicapped children in the Santa Cruz mountains.

The third boy, Tim McCoy, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCoy of 61 Johnson Drive, Concord, is attending a similar camp in Santa Clara County.

According to Mrs. Gertrude Hall, president of Contra Costa Chapter, "The camp facilities and activities are geared to the individual needs and interests of the handicapped child.

"Wheelchairs are almost forgotten as the children participate in the camp activities of swimming, fishing, boating, crafts, nature studies and cook-outs."

"The annual Contra Costa County Muscular Dystrophy Drive, which supports the camp program is scheduled this year for the week of November 14," Mrs. Hall said.

Contributions collected in the local drive help support some 100 research projects in 60 medical and scientific institutions sponsored by MDAA in an effort to find the cause and cure of the disease.

Some people, points out the National Automobile Club, always seem to do things the hard way. When a Flemish-speaking native of Belgium goes in to ask for an automobile tire he asks for a "s n e lpaardelooszonderspoorwegpetrolistung." And it's impolite to point!

Concord Kahns Changes Name to Rhodes Tuesday

A new name replaces an old one in the Bay Area merchandising picture on Tuesday as Kahns, Oakland's 81-year-old department store, changes its name to Rhodes.

Kahns Concord, which opened in the Concord Shopping Center in August 1957 as a three and one-half million dollar branch of the Oakland operation, also adopts the Rhodes identity, as will two Olds & King stores in Portland, Oregon.

New Exhibit by Pageant Starts with Open House

Paintings by Ken Curran, ceramics by Elena Netherby and sculpture by Helen Mitchell will be featured in the new exhibit at the Diablo Pageant of Arts gallery in Walnut Creek city park.

The exhibit will be displayed for the first time at an open house showing Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.

The show will run through September 22.

Regular gallery visiting hours are from 2 to 5 and from 8 to 10 p.m., Monday through Saturday. The gallery is closed on Sundays.

THIS WILL be the first Bay Area showing of Curran's semi-abstract work. He is presently teaching and painting in San Leandro.

Curran has studied two years at the Chouinard Art Institute, two years with muralist Jan Charlot at the Colorado Springs Fine Art Center, one year at the Leger Studio in Paris, and three years at the California College of Arts and Crafts.

Elena Netherby is the founder of the Mills Ceramic Guild. She has studied with Benjamin Bufano, Louis Guzman-Reyes and Amador Genaro of Nicaragua.

She will exhibit unusual and delicate porcelain pices.

HER CERAMICS are contained in permanent collections at the Albert and Victoria Museum, London; San Francisco Museum of Art; Tokyo Museum; the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and museums in Copenhagen, Denmark; Cannes, France; Faenza, Italy; Syracuse, N. Y., and Brussels and Ostend, Belgium.

Helen Mitchell, a secretary at Anna Head School in Berkeley, will exhibit garden and animal sculpture.

One of the four original members of the Mills Ceramic Guild, she has studied at the University of California, California School of Fine Arts and California College of Arts and Crafts.

She also has come under the tutelage of Elah Hayes, Carleton Bell and Antonio Prieto.

Her work is part of permanent collections at many foreign museums, the San Francisco Museum and the City of San Francisco Collection. She is a member of San Francisco Women Artists.

The Walnut Creek exhibit also will feature seven paintings of Mexico and California by Louis Siegriest, Oakland artist. These paintings are for sale or rent.

Handicapped Swim To Resume, September 17

A unique, invigorating swim program with volunteers and instructors receiving far more than the students for whom it was planned was set up through the cooperation of two community organizations and St. Mary's College.

A Saturday morning swim program for the handicapped of Central and East Contra Costa was initiated with the combined efforts of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

It ran from January through June, and will resume on September 17.

VITAL FROM the start was the assurance that the St. Mary's indoor pool would be available.

With the necessary pool commitment, the United Crusade-supported Red Cross Chapter provided water safety instructors and aides, equipment, materials, and transportation when necessary.

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center offered medical and technical counseling, supplied two therapists, and served as a referral center.

"I can't say enough about the many benefits the volunteers receive from the program. Of course the original intent was to assist the handicapped in learning to swim, improve their swimming, or give instructions in safety in and about water," Mrs. Richard Myer of Orinda, Chapter Water Safety chairman said.

BUT AFTER a few session we began to realize that while the students were gaining many things from the program — the volunteers were gaining more.

"For instance, we learned to appreciate the health and well-being of ourselves and our children and made us more understanding human beings," she added.

"We also learned that this was a very concrete way of helping others in a fun atmosphere and had fun ourselves while learning important values in the process."

Thirty students have been participating. They range in ages from 3 to 68, and are post polio, muscular sclerosis, cerebral palsy, Legg-perthes, blindness, muscular dystrophy, paraplegic and and post meningitis.

AS FOR THE students, they are all learning and having fun. Our oldest patient, a woman of 68, had never been in water before. Since we started this course she has learned to swim and float on her back.

"For the paraplegics it means they have freedom of movement because of the buoyancy of the water which they certainly do not have confined to their wheel chairs," Mrs. Myer explained.

The care and instructions for the 30 students involves 11 instructors, 43 aides and two therapists.

The Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa also refers volunteers to assist the students who come from Orinda, Danville, San Ramon, Pleasant Hill, Martinez, Concord, Pittsburg, Antioch and Walnut Creek.

WATER SAFETY Aides include Sheldon Amos, Susan Carlson, Georgia Cooper, Linda Carruth, Mickey Kunzig, Sharon Martin, Conchita Newton, LeeAnn Sowerwine, and Carol Yasudo of Pleasant Hill; Bonnie and John Boyd, Paul and Judy Myer, and Debbie Googins of Orinda.

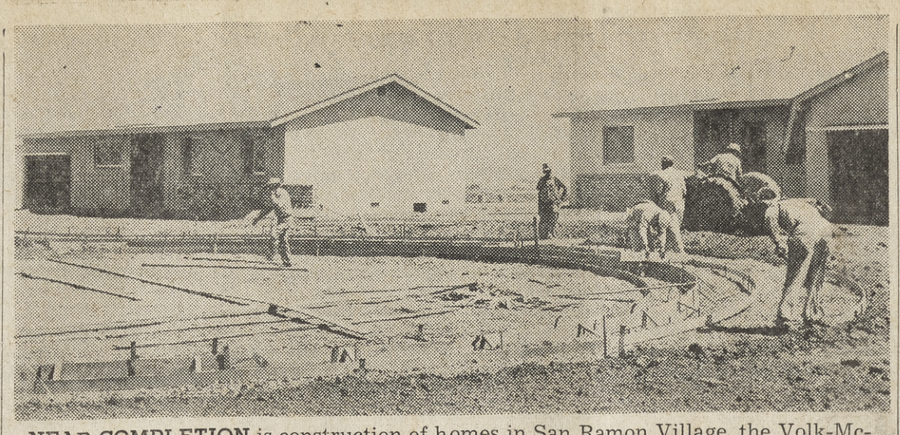
Diane Bode, Antioch; Steve Bevitt, Pat Doyle, Sue Holifield, Priscilla Reed, and Pat Ryan of Walnut Creek; Carolyn Fisher, Judy Rider, Cathy Scelsi, Charlyn Robinson of Concord.

Instructors were Phil and Sug Springham, Lafayette; Rocky Smith and Maxine Myer, Orinda; Marianne Cooper, Paula Martin, Bill Rader and Bob Rich, Pleasant Hill; Dave Olson of Walnut Creek; and Vyonne Stromberg of Oakland.

Karl Mahler, chapter manager of the Greater Mt. Diablo Chapter Red Cross, also served as an instructor.

For further information about the project call the Chapter headquarters at 1395 Civic Drive, Walnut Creek.

The Mt. Diablo Chapter, Red Cross, is one of 21 Central Contra Costa member agencies.



NEAR COMPLETION is construction of homes in San Ramon Village, the Volk-McLain development just south of Highway 50 in the San Ramon area. The initial construction involves 189 three and four-bedroom homes. Eventually some 9500 homes are planned to cover 4300 acres. They will be in both Contra Costa and Alameda Counties.

Boys Chorus to Launch United Crusade Drive

The voices of the famous San Francisco Boys Chorus will herald the opening of the 1960 United Crusade campaign at the joint Alameda - Contra Costa county "Kick-Off Dinner" September 15 at the Scottish Rite Auditorium, Oakland.

The announcement came from Mrs. Leonard M. Chaney, chairman, and Carl W. Rehfuss, vice-chairman of the two-county dinner program committee.

The boys, whose ages range from 8 to 14 years, are best known to Bay Area audiences for their performances in the operas "Carmen," "La Boheme" and "Tosca," and have recorded "Boris Goudonoff" for RCA Victor with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Leopold Stokowski.

Among other well-remembered performances by the group was their part in the San Francisco Opera Company's production of "Joan of Arc at the Stake," and the Coronation Concert conducted by Bruno Walter.

Since 1948, when the chorus was first formed by Kurt Adler and the late Gaetano Merola, the boys have sung under the direction of Miss Madi Bacon of Berkeley, sister of composer Ernst Bacon who founded the world famous Carmel Bach Festival.

EBMUD Sells More Bonds

The second series of its $252-million water development bond issue, in the amount of $30 million, was sold by the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

Successful bidder for the Series B general obligation bonds was Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc. and Associates. There were two other bidders.

Joseph A. Duner, EBMUD treasurer, termed the interest rate "very favorable." He noted that it was 15 points below the interest rate for the $25-million in Series A bonds sold in February, 1959.

Art Pageant Key Officials

A new member of the board of directors, a business manager and a director of public relations were named in the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society, Inc., by Forrest Englehart, president.

The new director is Huibert van Hoboken of Pleasant Hill, who also will serve as property chairman.

Mrs. Joyce Zaharias of Alamo will serve as business manager.

Public relations director will be John H. Plumb of Clayton, a customer relations representative for the East Bay Municipal Utility District and a former Walnut Creek newspaper editor.

Operating the society's art gallery will be Mrs. Mary Ann Styskel and Mrs. Barbara Butzbach of Walnut Creek.

Other appointments are Arthur Bragg of Walnut Creek, office manager; Mrs. Vee Strickland of Walnut Creek, first vice president and coordinator, and Mrs. Sue Friedman of Alamo, poetry chairman.

SAFETY RECORD

Employees of EBMUD's Sewage Disposal Division have worked 700,000 man hours without a lost-time accident.

Part-Time Students to Register

Registration for part-time students will be held at Diablo Valley College September 10.

Former students will register in the morning and new students in the afternoon.

Director Karl O. Drexel said that more than 100 classes will be available, tuition-free, in varied fields of interest.

The new Science Building will be occupied for the first time this fall.

Drexel said the spacious laboratories, fully equipped with modern teaching and scientific instruments, will be used to teach such subjects as chemistry and botany.

Other courses range from electronics to Russian language and from world literature to food service.

The latter is a class in sanitation and safety for food service employees.

A brochure listing the classes, times and places they are offered, and registration information is available at the college on Golf Club Road near Pacheco. Telephone inquiries are accepted.

Local Girls Will Attend Stephens

Three students from Orinda and five from Lafayette will attend Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., when classes start Sept. 19.

Accepted for admission as new students from Lafayette are: Mary Dunn, daughter of Mrs. Philip Dunn, 3976 S. Peardale Drive; Sally Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morris Browning, 1069 Rahara Drive; Dianne Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McKie W. Roth, 3225 Glenside Drive; Judy Ann Whalen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Whalen, 3251 Glenside Drive; and Roberta Weyls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weyls, 624 Huntleigh Drive.

New student from Orinda will be Leslie Diane Whitehead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Whitehead, 106 Coral Drive.

Others from Orinda planning to resume their studies at Stephens are Patricia Ann Hartsough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harold Hartsough, 35 Linda Vista, and Sally Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Stewart, 36 Los Altos Road.

Mark Meets Mexico, and Friendly Mexico Returns Mark's Smile...

THAT FIRST MEETING in Mexico is, just like in the United States, frequently a warm handshake. Here Mark Silverman, disembarking from a Mexican Airlines (CMA) plane, is introduced to Edmundo Garza Jr. by the plane captain.

★ ★ ★ ★

Hands Across the Borders... Edmundo Shows Mark...

Mark Silverman, 14, has had a practical lesson in international relations—and a short course in personal relations as a corollary.

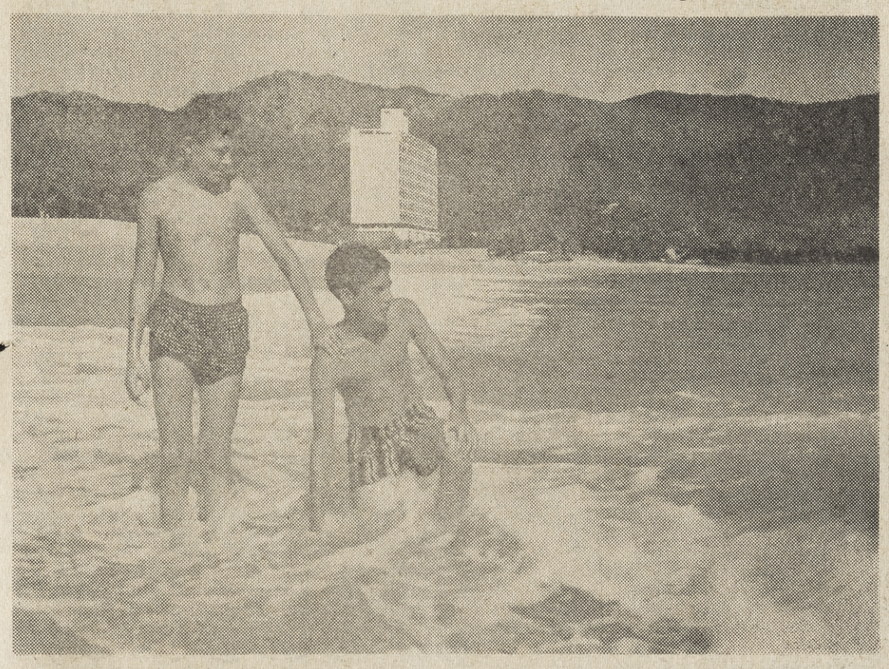
He was recently the guest of Edmundo Garza Jr., also 14, son of the owner of Garza Travel Service in Mexico, and Edmundo took him on a tour of his country.

Mark is planning to reciprocate this fall by acting as host to Edmundo, when he will try to show him the same kind of hospitality and good will that he experienced as a guest in Mexico.

Mark's trip was a veritable good will expedition — a modern day Hands Across the Border journey. Edmundo showed Mark some of the fascinating things that give Mexico its reputation for charm, warmth and friendliness, and took him back through the centuries which are so rich in Mexican folk lore and history.

And during the course of the trip a real friendship developed between Mark and Edmundo—the kind of a friendship that does not know the limitations of borders or language difficulties.

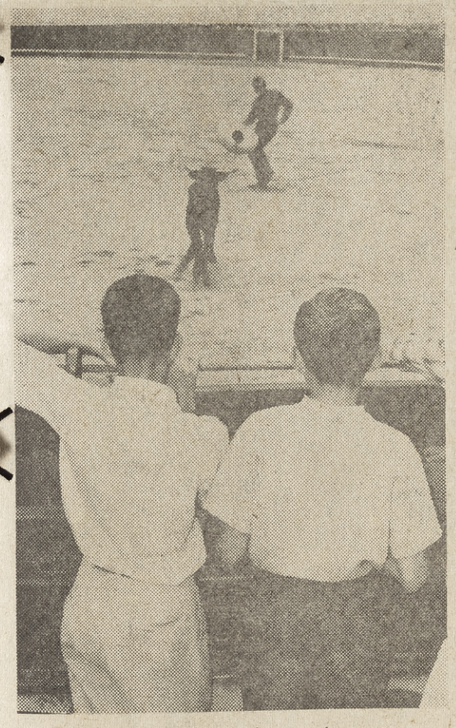
IT'S KIND OF FUN to go shopping in Me xico, especially when the "store" comes right to you. And charming little Senorita s like this one abound in Mexico, to add to the delight of a trip in this beautiful cou ntry.



WARM SURF is a delight and it is readily accessable at the beautiful beaches of Acapulco. The modern hotel behind Mark and Edmundo is typical of the fine accommodations available in this beautiful resort town.

MARK SPEAKS English, Edmundo speaks Spanish, and the stewardess on this Mexican Airlines (CMA) plane can help both of them The boys were looking forward to Acapulco.

AS EVERYONE knows, libraries contain books, but in some cases you can do your reading from the walls themselves. Mark and Edmundo had a fine time looking at this wall on the library of the University of Mexico.



HU, TORRO! That's an honest-to-goodness bull fight. Both Mark and Edmundo, being students, are watching this student bull fighter go through his paces.

It Was a Fascinating Trip; Here's A Diary of Outstanding Events

By MARK SILVERMAN

Monday, June 27, we left for Mexico. We flew to Los Angeles where we boarded a Mexicana Airlines (CMA) jet at 3 p.m. and we were in Mexico City three hours later.

Everywhere we went my parents spoke Spanish. Most of the Mexicans could speak English and could probably understand it better than my parents' "Spanish."

At lunch (they eat later in Mexico) we ate at a place overlooking the main square. The food was good, except that in some places in Mexico you can't drink any dairy products because they aren't always pasteurized.

THAT NIGHT we went to Mr. Edmundo Garza's house. He's the owner of Garza Travel Service. Their house is gigantic — enhanced by Spanish architecture. They also have about 10 servants. I slept overnight there, with their son, Edmundo Junior, who is also 14.

There are eight children in the family and the ninth is coming. We went to bed early because the kids had to go to school in the morning. In Mexico school is from January to October.

The next day I went to Edmundo's school. We arrived at about 8 (school starts at 8:30). Everyone was playing basketball or soccer (Mexican football). At 8:50 we went to his first class. The class was very disorganized, and any time someone spoke out of turn (which was quite often) he got hit with a ruler.

IT WAS frustrating at dinner because the whole family spoke in Spanish, so I couldn't tell what in the world they were talking about.

June 30 I went on a tour of the city. I took a cab from the Garza's house in the morning to the travel agency where I was picked up for the tour. The other members of the party were: the guide, a boy my age from Mexico, a lady from England, a couple from New Mexico, and a loud-mouthed lady from Philadelphia.

First we went to the Cathedral and then to the National Palace where the guide gave an interesting description of Mexico's colorful history. Then we went to a store where I bought a horse whip for my brother. It was the first time I ever bargained. Then we went to Chapultepec Castle which is now a museum. Maxmillian and Carlotta lived there when they ruled Mexico.

During the next few days we toured the city and neighboring areas, including University City where the University of Mexico is located and the pyramids outside Mexico City. We also saw the Shrine of Guadalupe and ate at a restaurant in a cave called The Grotto.

JULY 2 EDMUNDO and I woke up at 6:30 to catch a plane to Oaxaca, pronounced "Wa-Hak-A." After arriving there with my parents and Edmundo we went to the ancient ruins at Monte Alban. They were fascinating, as is their history, but one thing bothered me.

Although many ruins have been discovered, there are still many hills where ruins have not yet been uncovered.

After we visited the ruins of Monte Alban we toured the market. It was fascinating. Everything from pastry to knives were sold. It was so crowded that there was no room to park the car.

July 6 we started on our trip to Acapulco via Garza Tours. We stopped off at many small villages which are quite different from Mexico City, and even smaller than Oaxaca.

July 7 in the morning we toured Taxco. We visited the silver factory, the cathedral (there's a big cathedral in almost every city), and a museum. I like Taxco very much. Because of a Federal Law, it has been left free of modern construction and is almost as it was in the 18th century.

EDMUNDO GARZA JR. came over from Mexico City to Acapulco for the weekend. So after we picked him up at the airport, we went sightseeing. After a hectic day of shopping and touring, we went to see a famous sunset. We were a little early (about two hours) so we left.

July 11 we went to town with another couple to get a fishing boat. Each boatman (according to his own opinion) had the best boat for the cheapest price and it got a little tiring. We finally settled on a boat for the next morning. For the rest of the day we did what we did the day before . . . just relaxed, swam and read. The pool is beautiful and so is the beach.

So ended my trip. It was an enjoyable experience, but as the old saying goes, "There's no place like home."

SOME OF THE MEXICAN names may appear to be real tongue-twisters at first to the uneducated English tongue, but Mark soon felt at home with such words as Chapultepec Castle, which Edmundo is showing him here.

SOMETIMES A VACATION brings about a chance to do the unusual. Mark is taking Edmundo for a ride in this special jeep, used for towing the modern CMA jet liners like the one that is right behind them.

FOOTBALL IS one thing, but they never played it in this stadium — the ruins of Monte Alban in Oaxaca. A Garza Travel Service guide explains that the Indians used this as an athletic field over a thousand years ago.

Reservists Back From Training

Returning from two weeks of civil affairs duty are four local men, Major Ray Dear of 1105 Laurel Lane, Major Phil Sinnott of 3374 Mildred Lane, Captain Bob Neustadt of 3577 Boyer Circle and Specialist Fourth Class James Bava of 3933 North Peardale.

During their training with the 445th Civil Affairs Co., the outfit received several commendations for its outstanding performance. The 445th has a mission unique among Army units: To support the combat effort by restoring the stricken economy of a disaster area in which our forces are operating.

In civilian life, Dear is an officer of Cobbledick-Kibbe Glass Co. Sinnott is supervisor of elementary education at U.C. and Neustadt is an instructor in humanities and philosophy at Diablo Valley College.

Government Course Will Begin Sept. 15

A new course, "Local Government in Contra Costa County," will begin September 15 at Diablo Valley College.

Registration will be September 10.

Instructors will be L. A. Kimball, Walnut Creek city manager, and Ernest Marriner, Pittsburg city manager.

The course will run through January 26. Three units of college credit will be given.

Building Permit Total Rises

Building permits issued in Contra Costa County during July totaled $127,315, compared to $79,100 for July of last year.

The total for the nine Bay Area counties in July was $2,580,115.

Plant Now for Winter Harvest

Here are items for gardeners to check this week:

Many vegetables can be planted now for winter harvest, some from seed, others as small plants which nurserymen offer by the flat.

Toll-Free Calls Get County Nod

The Board of Supervisors has voiced support of toll-free service between Walnut Creek and Martinez, also Concord and Martinez.

Arthur Latno, Jr., district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, appeared before the supervisors last week, asking for their reaction to proposals.

The matter will probably go to the Public Utilities Commission for public hearings.

Recently, the Walnut Creek council went on record favoring further investigation of the pros and cons of the new service.

Students Need Place to Live; You Can Help

Domestic services of a college man or woman in return for room and board are available now according to Jack Danilovich, placement advisor at Diablo Valley College.

A large number of students attending the college, he said, are in need of a place to live. Families looking for a built-in baby sitter, gardener, or dish washer, should call Danilovich.

A boy who is working his way through college is more than proverbial at Diablo Valley, he added.

Last year his office was able to place students in 540 positions. At least that many more students, he said, found jobs for themselves.

Whenever possible, he places a student in a position which will give him practical experience in his major field of study, such as electronics, science laboratory assisting, counseling, apparel design, and business.

Danilovich's office is in the Library Building at Diablo Valley College.

Here Are Three Shrubs Worth Thinking About

Some shrubs seem to have a certain something extra which marks them as standouts in any garden. Seeing them, the gardener is not satisfied until he has them for his own.

You'll find a dozen or more of these top rated shrubs in any California Association of Nurserymen display yard. And three in particular will always catch your eye. They are Oregon Grape, Heavenly Bamboo and Lily of the Valley Shrub. These are shrubs of distinction, worth more than a minimum of space in any garden.

OREGON GRAPE, or Holly Grape, as many Californians call it, is distinctive throughout the year. In late winter and early spring, its clusters of yellow flowers stand out like lights against the glossy, holly-like foliage. These are followed by blue-black berries which hang on the shrub through summer.

In fall and winter, the foliage takes on bronzy red hues and the new growth in spring is often downright red. Oregon Grape is a highly useful shrub for the border or for use as a low to medium hedge.

Heavenly Bamboo is not a bamboo, but it has the same feathery texture. This is always attractive, bearing clusters of small but pleasant white blooms in spring that give way eventually to clusters of bright red berries in fall. These are borne against a seasonal background of bronze and red foliage which can be the highlight of a fall garden.

BOTH BERRY production and foliage color increase proportionately with the distance from cooler coastal climates.

Lily of the Valley Shrub is a real knockout when, in spring, its delicate white urn - shaped flowers are massed against its foliage. This foliage is narrow and finely cut and deep green through most of the year.

But in spring, when new growth pushes out, it is (like Oregon Grape) often bronzy red in color. It is a modest shrub, slow growing to eye level and highly useful in gardens of any size.

Young mountain lions shed their coats when about six months old, according to the National Automobile Club.

Your Garden

Late Summer Is Ideal Time To Make Garden Changes

It is the mark of a true gardener that he is never completely satisfied with his garden.

He forever uproots and moves shrubs from one place to another. He is always looking ahead, making plans today that he will act on tomorrow. There is nothing wrong with this—you change and redecorate your home—why not your garden?

PART OF THIS, we're sure, stems from a desire to create new jobs—to keep garden interest ever renewed. But it is equally true — and any member of the California Association of Nurserymen will agree—that most gardens hold some room for improvement.

As the gardener gains experience, his eye spots shortcomings of his earlier endeavors. He is impelled to make changes.

All of which brings us to our point—namely, that late summer is an ideal time to check the garden with an eye to making changes. It is a time of relative calm, an ideal time to plan for the busy months of fall.

WE SHOULD pay special attention to foundation shrubs around our houses. These — as we've found on more than one occasion—are prone to overgrowing. Plants and shrubs that were planted closely for a quick fill several years ago are now stepping on each other's toes.

Don't fool around with these shrubs. Uproot them (moving them if you can and want to), replacing them with more modest growers. Dwarf conifers—the junipers in particular—are ideal for the foundations.

Another facet of most gardens that usually needs reappraisal is the design of flower beds and their relationship to open areas and/or living areas in the landscape. There is no reason to garden in the straightjacket of bad design that you inherited from some one else or laid out yourself in an earlier period. Take the big step now and redesign, first on paper and then in fact. You may find it unnerving to face such changes, but one thing is sure. It won't be any easier in the future. Your time to act is now.

YOUR INVESTMENT IN WATER

Those 252-million dollars you voted to invest in water back in 1958 are doing big things today. A giant new aqueduct is moving toward our cities from the Sierra slopes, where a towering new dam will triple our reserves of crystal mountain water.

Here in the East Bay we will complete four huge new open-cut reservoirs during 1961. There's more, too—dams, mains, filter plants, pumping plants. In fact, it's one of the West's biggest construction jobs!

Actually, almost one-quarter of the entire project is either completed or under construction. And, we're happy to report, everything's on schedule and well within the budget.

W. & J. Sloane Is Bringing Beautiful Things to Town!

MODELS for the opening of the new W&J Sloane Walnut Creek Store will include Mrs. Samuel Abbott, Jr., left, of Diablo, and Mrs. William McGuire of Lafayette, both members of the Diablo Junior Museum Alliance. The opening is September 10 in Broadway Shopping Center.

Sloane to Open Store In B'dway

The new Walnut Creek store of W & J Sloane will be opened in official ceremonies September 10 in the Broadway Shopping Center.

Mayor Frank Marshall will cut the ribbon at 12 noon. and a $1 million collection of home furnishings will go on display at that time.

The floral arrangements have been planned by members of the Walnut Creek Garden Club.

Models will be provided by the Diablo Junior Museum Alliance. They will wear fashions from Joseph Magnin.

Starting that day, the new furniture displays will also be shown for the first time at three other Sloane stores in the Bay Area.

Dramatic room settings are being planned, said officials.

FLORAL ARRANGEMENTS for the W&J Sloane Store opening in Walnut Creek will be handled by members of the Walnut Creek Garden Club, including, from left to right, Mesdames John Anderson of Walnut Creek, John Lamb of Orinda and Phillip Simmons of Lafayette. Kennedy To Stop at Martinez

Democratic Presidential candidates Senator John F. Kennedy and members of his staff will make a major campaign tour of Northern and Central California next Thursday and Friday.

The tour will be made in a speciall 11 car Southern Pacific train, which will stop in Martinez on September 8 at 4:30 p.m.

The trip is scheduled to include an address by Senator Kennedy at a rally in Oakland Thursday night. Stops at 15 towns and cities throughout California, including the one at Martinez, will average 10 to 20 minutes.

The speed that thrills can be the speed that kills, warns the National Automobile Club. Slow down and be safe.

Tenor Soloist Planning Two Performances

Norman Nelson, dramatic tenor soloist from Manila, Philippines, will make two guest appearances in the Central Contra Costa area.

On Wednesday he will sing at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Christian Women's Club at the Concord Inn, Willow Pass Road.

He will sing at a dinner meeting sponsored by the Central Contra Costa Christian Business Men's Committee at the Diablo Valley College on Thursday at 7 p.m.

Nelson has made many appearances on television and network radio shows.

Having held leading roles in light opera, he was concert soloist in the Los Angeles Philharmonic, Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Hollywood Bowl and Portland Civic Auditorium.

During several of Billy Graham's evangelistic crusades, he was the featured soloist.

Using the facilities of the Orient Crusades Radio Station in Manila, Nelson is currently broadcasting three times per week over 14 of the largest radio stations of the Philippines.

Mrs. Charles D. Sholty is chairman of the Christian Women's Club and Mervin Lehman is chairman, Christian Business Men's Committee.

Reservations for either of these events may be made by calling by Tuesday Mrs. Victor Whetzel, Mrs. Sholty, Mrs. M. A. Rotermund.

meet Frank Dubost

An elephant-size chunk of metal that tames high voltages down to usable electricity is called a power transformer—and Frank has 9 of them on wheels! These mobile units are sent out to take over for the regular transformers requiring emergency repairs. This eliminates the need for scores of spare transformers at substations. Efficiencies like this help hold down the price of service . . . another reason why PG&E customers pay $1 for the same gas and electricity that cost $1.28 elsewhere.*

Lynn School To Start Third Year

The Lynn School for the Retarded in Danville begins fall classes Tuesday. The school, sponsored by the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County, for tween the ages of three and eight, mentally handicapped children begins its third year at the Front Street address.

Classes will be held in the morning and afternoon, the two programs being adjusted to the ages and abilities of the children. The council also maintains a sheltered workshop for older youngsters, known as the Lynn Training Center, which is located on Geary Road in Pleasant Hill.

Applications are now being accepted for both schools. Contact Mrs. Lucille Doyle, GL 8-3691 or Mrs. Nan Begor, MU 9-3695, for further information.

The Lynn School mothers have arranged a car pool to take of transportation to and from the school, and tuition is kept at a minimum so that no child need want for training because of a lack of funds.

Winifred Johnston will be the teacher at the Lynn School again this year. As before, at least one mother will be on hand to help with the children each day. Mrs. M. J. King, who has worked with the older children, will work again at the Lynn Training Center.

Both schools are entirely supported by members and friends of the Council for the Retarded. No money is received from state or public school funds. Children attend the schools from Walnut Creek, Concord, Pleasant Hill, El Monte, Lafayette and Danville.
